Bitter Clashes Sweep Legislature

SOLONS IN ROW OVER PROBES

CONGRESS'S POSITION—WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 18.—Now it is for Congress once more to choose whether, under pretense of being the friend of America, it shall become the enemy of mankind.

The debt commission and President Harding are perfectly capable of arranging a sound basis for the funding of the European debts. It cannot be done within the impossible terms laid down by Congress, and it cannot be done on any other terms without the consent of Congress. To refuse that consent is not to get the terms on which Congress insists. It is to get no terms.

Impossibilities are impossible, whether Congress votes them or not. Economic consequences are inexorable, whether Congress knows it or not.

The diagnosis of the British Chancellor of the Exchequer is correct, whether Congress ignores it or not. "If on the economic map of the world there is a spot of prosperity surrounded by distress, that spot will not spread to bring health, but it will be wiped out by the poverty and misery that surround it."

Congress can act on the facts or disregard them. The facts will remain and will prevail, either way. Only in the one case, Congress will have been the friend of America and of mankind. In the other case, it will have pretended to be the friend of America, but will actually have been the enemy of America and of mankind.

MONEY TOO GOOD—Evidently the choice in the demoralized parts of the world is between money that is too bad and money that is too good.

In most of Russia, the paper ruble is the standard currency. Nobody knows what it will be worth from day to day, but it takes some millions to the dollar now. Yet, somehow, such business as Russia has left does get done on it.

But in the Far Eastern Republic of Trans-Baikal Siberia, there is no paper money at all. Nothing circulates but gold and silver rubles. There is a bank, such as it is, but its functions are still primitive. Prices are normal, and, barring the inconvenience of carrying about heavy coin, the hard money serves very well for ordinary retail transactions. But for capitalized enterprise (the Far Eastern Republic is capitalist) where credits and credit money are needed, the coin, with no facilities for basing credit on it, is meaningless.

Czechoslovakia is trying the experiment of both sorts at once. There is a paper currency, stabilized after a fashion, and much sounder than the neighboring currencies. But the government will also coin anybody's gold, for a small fee, into gold ducaats of a guaranteed weight and fineness. The gold ducaat is not legal money and there are no machines for basing bank credit on it. But it is, for individual transactions, perfectly sound money—too good for any but the smaller purposes of life.

Money can be too good or too bad. Europe, apparently, knows only these two sorts.

BENIGHTED FILIPINOS—When the benighted Filipinos of a generation joined Aguirre in revolution, and then they promptly revolted against the revolutionary government itself, as soon as it began to tax them. "The very thing we were insuring against," they said, "was taxes. And now the new government has the impudence to tax us. It is no better than the old."

Very primitive and naive, no doubt.

But there are a few examples nearer home.

The soldiers' bonus is the most spectacular. Nearly the whole membership of both houses of Congress stands ready to vote for the bonus. Only a handful are ready to vote a tax to pay it.

Some more examples:

Fresno, many years ago, had a charter provision that when a proposal for a public improvement was submitted to the people, alternative propositions should also be submitted, whether to pay for it by a bond issue, or by a direct tax. An outfall sewer was needed. The people voted almost unanimously for the sewer, but by a large majority against both methods of paying for it!

In 1920, two educational measures were submitted to the people of California. One called for large additional expenses for the public schools, but provided no tax to pay them. It carried decisively, and now the legislature is struggling with the problem where to find the money. The other provided no increase in the expenses of the university above what will be necessary anyway, but levied a regular tax to raise the money. It was defeated.

The mayor of Chicago is now pondering over this problem. The people want a five-cent street car fare. A five-cent fare will not produce enough money to run the roads. The mayor's committee is considering a bill, to introduce in the legislature, to pay the deficit out of taxes, but he warned that it cannot pass. A straight five-cent fare bill, with no way to pay the deficit at all, the legislators say will pass easily. "Give the people what they want. They want the five-cent fare, and they don't want to pay the rest of it."

Stock Exchange Now Quotes Marks at 23,000 for Dollar

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The German mark fell to 97,000 to the pound sterling today or approximately 20,700 to the dollar.

By one o'clock the mark was quoted at 115,000 to the pound.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The German mark was over 23,000 to the dollar on the New York stock exchange today.

BERLIN, Jan. 18.—The dollar opened at 21,500 on the Berlin bourse today.

THEFT BACK OF BIG L. A. FIRE, VIEW

Police Suspect Watchman Slain and Barker Warehouse Fired to Hide Crime.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 18.—Believing that J. Koch, whose charred body was found in the ruins of the Barker Brothers warehouse fire early this morning, may have been a victim of robbers who murdered him and later started the fire, police today started an exhaustive investigation.

The firm estimated that loss will run well over half a million, several hundred valuable rugs being destroyed, and much stock injured by smoke and water.

RAIL STRIKERS FEEL LASH IN ARK. RIOTS

(By United Press Leased Wire) HARRISON, Ark., Jan. 18.—Mob law spread in northern Arkansas today.

Striking railroad employees have been flogged at Leslie and other points along the Missouri and North Arkansas railroad following outbreaks here in which E. C. Gregor was lynched and twenty persons were beaten and deported.

The state legislature has ordered a probe of the lynching of Gregor and floggings of strikers.

The investigation was expected to get under way tomorrow.

A grand jury investigation made under the eyes of the mob returned sixteen indictments.

The visible results of the mob activities were signs conspicuously placed in business houses proclaiming the "open shop."

Three small stores had been closed for refusal to post the signs.

The hand of the ruling "citizens committee" also dictated the resignation of a number of city officials.

Mayor Clute said he would tender his resignation upon pressure and three members of the council announced they would resign.

BRITISH CALL HALT IN REFUND PARLEY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The American and British debt funding negotiations were broken off here today in order that the British commissioners might return to their country and present the American position on the $5,000,000,000 war debt to Premier Bonar Law.

The entire British mission will sail from New York for England Saturday.

Chancellor of the Exchequer Baldwin will outline the American position to the British cabinet upon his arrival January 27.

The two commissions failed to reach a tentative agreement.

Subsequent negotiations will be conducted through the British embassy here.

McNARY UNDER FIRE OF SENATORIAL BODY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Opposition to the nomination of James G. McNary to be comptroller of currency again delayed action by the senate banking and currency committee today.

Testimony was given before the committee regarding financial transactions conducted by McNary while he was a bank president in El Paso, Texas.

The committee will meet again to resume its executive hearings.

WALLY REID, MOVIE STAR, DIES

TWO JAILED IN DANGER SLAYING

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 18.—Roger V. B. Clark, motion picture director, suspected of having murdered of Fritzie Mann, 20-year-old dancer killed at Del Mar Beach near San Diego, was arrested this afternoon by local detectives, who had a "tip" that he was preparing to leave for the east. Clark was seated in his auto at the time of his arrest. A hasty examination of the machine revealed bloodstains, police declared. Clark gave his address as the Hotel U. S. Grant at San Diego, and said he had been directing a picture being taken along the west coast of Mexico.

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 18.—Captain Louis Jacobs, of the Camp Kearney hospital, was placed under arrest here today and locked in jail. He is held for investigation in connection with the death of Fritzie Mann, dancer.

(By United Press Leased Wire) LOS ANGELES, Jan. 18.—"Hold him. We believe he is the right party."

This telegram, received by the local police department from Chief of Police Patrick of San Diego, sent a squad of detectives hurrying to the Santa Fe station shortly after noon today to meet an incoming train on which a man mentioned in connection with the death of Fritzie Mann, dancer, near San Diego, was reported en route here.

An agitated conversation over the phone between the broker and an unknown party gave the police the tip which, it is hoped, will result in clearing up his connection with the girl.

The phone conversation took place at 9:42 this morning and the person who overheard it promptly reported to the San Pedro police department, which, in turn, took it up with the local police.

LOVE LETTERS GIVE NEW CLUE IN DEATH PROBE

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 18.—Letters written to Fritzie Mann while she was at Long Beach, by a San Diego man were received by the police today. The letters contained many terms of endearment.

Important information in connection with her mysterious death are said to be contained in the letters. Telegrams from girl friends of the dead dancer are also in the hands of the police today and may shed light on the case.

Police today expected the arrest of a man who, on Sunday night, took the girl in a closed car to La Jolla, where the two remained for part of the night.

The man rented a cottage there. The landlord saw both the girl and her companion, and is expected to identify a suspect whom the police have been trailing for two days.

The theory is that the couple drove north to Torrey Pines, where Fritzie was either thrown into the surf or waded in of her own accord.

Dr. Louis L. Jacobs, Camp Kearney hospital interne, who, following the discovery of the body of Miss Mann, went voluntarily to the police station to give an account of his friendship with the girl, was again questioned today by Police Chief James Patrick in the course of the investigation of the dancing girl's tragic death.

DEATH CLAIMS TWO NOTED CALIFORNIANS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18.—Two persons who figured prominently in California's early history were dead today.

Mrs. Margaret Blake Alverson, singer, once officially designated by the state legislature as "the first prima donna of California," died at the Oakland relief home, aged 86.

Robert Hawhurst, said to be the last surviving member of the San Francisco Vigilance committee, died at his home here last night, aged 89.

NEIGHBOR VS. NEIGHBOR IN DEATH PROBE

Witness Testifies Close Friend Was Member of Hooded Mob Accused of Slaying.

COURTHOUSE, BASTROP, La., Jan. 18.—E. N. Gray today was charged by his friend and neighbor, Fred Eubanks, with being a member of the hooded mob that kidnaped Watt Daniel and Thomas Richards before they were murdered August 24. Eubanks, testifying here today, declared he was in one of the automobiles held up at that night while masked men searched for Daniel, Richards and three others, and that he recognized Gray as a member of the hooded mob.

With those words the first identification of any one even faintly connected with the events that culminated in the murder of Daniel and Richards was brought to light.

CONGRESS MAY LIFT BAN ON FOREIGNERS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The house immigration committee set out today to redraft the present "three per cent" immigration statute into such shape that it will stand as a permanent law.

A score or more of changes will be considered. One of the most important is President Harding's recommendation that all aliens be required to register several times a year so a close tab can be kept on their activities and the place at which they assimilate American ideals.

Another major proposal to be taken up by the committee is that the "three per cent" law hereafter be based on the census of 1890 instead of the census of 1910. Going back to the 1890 census would greatly increase the quotas for the northern countries of Europe which would supply desirable immigrants and at the same time reduce materially the quotas for the countries of southern Europe.

REPUBLICAN FORCES TAKE CHINA CAPITOL

TOKIO, Jan. 18.—Canton, seat of the South China government, has been recaptured by the forces of Sun Yat Sen, former president of the Chinese republic, according to dispatches reaching here today.

The dispatches said that this opened the way for the return of Sun Yat Sen to power in China.

BE THRIFTY Hoover Sees Country Progress by Thrift Week Idea

By HERBERT HOOVER U. S. Secretary of Commerce, who, as U. S. Food Administrator during the war, saved millions of Europeans from starvation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The whole progress of our country depends upon the individual savings of our people, for when all is said and done the improvement on our farms, our goods, our roads, railways, factories, etc., are the net savings that one generation hands on to the next, and our progress is marked by what we have saved and improved during our generation.

However vital as this fact may be, to me thrift has a more intimate personal value. Saving is the only road to personal independence. I had a guaranteed income, independent of anybody, for a couple of months when I had saved $150. I was independent for a year when I had saved $1500. I had the courage to take risks in trying for a better job the minute I could see a year ahead.

ACTOR LOSES LONG FIGHT FOR LIFE

Wife and Children at Bedside as Former Movie Favorite Passes.

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 18.—Wally Reid, film star, lost his long fight against dope today.

He died at 1:40 in the Bankers Sanitarium here, after an illness of more than six weeks.

The illness had never been diagnosed but was thought by physicians to be a form of nerve tissue exhaustion after his long fight in which he finally broke himself of the "dope" habit.

For six weeks he has been lying in bed, hardly able to move, but determined to win out, and "come back" in the films.

His wife, Dorothy Davenport Reid, was at the bedside at the time of his death as was his small son, William Wallace Reid Jr., and their adopted daughter, Betty, aged 3.

Mr. Reid, who has been near the point of exhaustion for weeks owing to her daily twelve hour vigil at Wally's bedside, was prostrated with grief.

Wally, according to his wife's story, began taking morphine during a stay in New York two years ago. He was ill at the time, and took it in order to continue work. He was still ill when he returned to Hollywood, but insisted on working in order to get a picture out on schedule time.

Four Grains Per Day.

Hospital records show that at the time he started to effect a cure he was taking four grains of morphine a day.

First hint of his condition came last October, when he was struck with temporary blindness, due to the Kleig lights, and the nervous condition which he was in. At this time he determined to make his last stand against the narcotic octopus.

Taking Teddy Hayes, Jack Dempsey's trainer, with him, he went out into the hills, and there, despite the terrific tortures to nerve and muscle, stopped the "dope habit." He and Hayes remained in the open for nearly a month.

Although at the end of this time he declared he no longer had any craving for dope, he did not regain his health.

He finally became worse, and at last submitted to a rigorous three-day examination by the leading physicians of the country, who were unable to diagnose his illness.

The examination so exhausted him that he collapsed, and was taken to the Dr. Blessing sanitarium and later to Dr. Banker's sanitarium.

There he steadily grew worse and it was feared for some time that he would die. He apparently rallied, however, and has recently been reported making slow progress toward recovery. During the last week, he was reported as regaining a little strength, and taking solid food for the first time.

His disease was a sort of dystrophy, which wrecked the fibers of his body. At the time of his death he only weighed 135 pounds, whereas he normally weighed over 200.

Locate Bill Taken In Denver Mint Robbery In Arizona

TUCSON, Ariz., Jan. 18.—Extensive search was under way today for members of the bandit gang which perpetrated the Denver mint robbery, escaping with $200,000.

One of the bills stolen in the robbery was found in circulation here by federal agents, and an attempt is being made to trace it. Business houses and banks have been cautioned to be on the look out for more.

Secret service agents working on the case believe that members of the bank are either now in this state, or have crossed over to Mexico for safety. It is possible that the bill may have been passed there, and have come back across the line, as American money is freely circulated in Mexican border towns.

$250,000 IS CITY TOTAL IN BUILDING

Permits Issued First 18 Days of New Year Call for Big Construction Program.

One quarter of a million dollars in building has been authorized in permits issued in Santa Ana this year to date, according to the records of W. S. Decker, building inspector.

Eleven permits were issued today for a valuation of $41,880, bringing the total for the month and year to 113 permits valued at $250,483, the records showed.

The largest permit issued today was for $25,000 to B. J. Chandler for construction of a three-story concrete business block, 119x50 feet, at 428 West Fourth street.

Named the Hollow Wall Concrete company as contractor.

DRY LEADER IN BITTER FIGHT ON ALIENS

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 18.—Prohibition Commissioner Roy Haynes, in an interview here today, blamed two classes of persons for the tenaciousness of the "wet idea" in the United States.

The alien, he said, was chiefly responsible for bootlegging. He believes 85 per cent of the bootleggers free and in jails are aliens who never had any intention of becoming naturalized or who do not take their naturalization seriously.

Men of prominence in high places, many of them in positions of public trust, are more to blame than the alien, Haynes declared, for they should be saturated with the spirit of American law observance.

The prohibition commissioner betrayed no apprehension regarding the declaration of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in Cincinnati January 15, that he would lead organized labor in a fight for light wines and beer.

"We are not worried about what Gompers may say or do," Haynes said. "It is but a phase of the opposition we have encountered all along the line."

Haynes would not discuss Hollywood nor what he intends to do. He had previously stated that he would do nothing.

"We are going to make a study of Pacific narcotic conditions, however," he said. "If there is not enough enforcement now we will have more."

Says Fleet Success.

Asked concerning allocation of a dry fleet to the coast, Haynes merely laughed. "We have had considerable success with our dry fleet," he said significantly. "But I do not care to reveal all that I know."

The prohibition commissioner would reveal none of his plans for the Pacific coast, if he has any, beyond what he intends to do through open meetings with federal prohibition officials and state enforcement officers.

Haynes will confer here with nearly a dozen state prohibition directors, including the director of Alaska, all of whom reached Portland Wednesday night and will work out with them better methods for combating smuggling on the Canadian border, through Pacific and gulf coast ports and along the Mexican international line.

To Urge Larger Force.

The necessity for increased forces of land prohibition agents and the allocation of a fleet of subchasers to combat rum runners was to be put up strongly to the commissioner during the course of his survey.

COAL BARGES ARE SEIZED BY FRANCE

Ruhr District Facing Starvation as Food Supplies Run Low

(By United Press Leased Wire) BERLIN, Jan. 18.—Germany today notified France and Belgium there is danger of a collision between allied and German forces if the occupation of the Ruhr valley is extended further toward Muenster.

An unconfirmed dispatch from Dortmund said the French were resuming their advance toward Hamm, which is also in the general direction of Muenster.

Transport forces and thirty tanks are moving from Dortmund toward Dorstfeld.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The German embassy here announced that German troops were withdrawing from Muenster. The German troops around Muenster totalled one battalion of infantry, one squadron of cavalry and a tank corps, according to German sources.

ESSEN, Jan. 18.—The French seized loaded German coal barges on the Rhineheren canal near Strassburg today. The barges were held up and the captain's papers taken away.

New clearance papers for French destinations were furnished and the barges were directed to proceed to Strassburg instead of to the German destination to which their cargoes were consigned.

The French general in command here ordered Herr Thyssen and five other prominent operators to come before him "for advice" but not for orders. The Germans refused to consider any further conferences, they announced earlier in the day.

ITALY AND BELGIUM GIVE FRANCE SUPPORT.

PARIS, Jan. 18.—Belgium and Italy approved and Britain did not oppose France's plans to inflict further penalties on Germany for reparations defaults, it was announced today.

Replies were received by France from Italy and Belgium acquiescing in the proposal to erect a customs barrier around the Rhineland Ruhr. England, while not approving this, raised no objection to the measure concerning the left bank of the Rhine.

France replied today to Germany's protest against occupation of the Ruhr, stating the action was not of a military nature and was not an act of war. It was only a matter of protecting the French civilian mission, the reply stated.

Marshal Foch has not asked additional troops for the Ruhr, and the army of occupation there now numbers about 50,000, it was semi-officially announced.

"30" BULLETIN

PARIS, Jan. 18.—Germany is preparing a protest to all signatories of the Versailles treaty, claiming that French troops crossed the fifty kilometer neutral zone provided for in the treaty, according to reliable information here today.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The French took possession today of all railway stations in the Ruhr, according to dispatch from Essen. It was also reported that they seized offices of the various coal companies.

DUSSELDORF, Jan. 18. — Six German industrialists of the Ruhr, including Fritz Thyssen, son of August Thyssen, will be court-martialed, charged with disobedience of military orders in the occupied zone, it was announced this afternoon.

BERLIN, Jan. 18.—Martial law was proclaimed in Memei by Lithuanian troops, who seized the city Monday, according to reports here. Dispatches yesterday reported a French landing party about to go to the relief of French troops defeated by the Lithuanians at Mebel.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen, of Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allen's, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed druggists everywhere to dispense Allen's with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment. All druggists can supply you.—adv.

MYSTERY 'HEALER' IS RELEASED FROM JAIL

The man of mystery, the "divine healer of the county jail," had gone today.

Held for 30 days, awaiting trial on vagrancy charges, the man had refused to give his name. Conspicuous by his long auburn beard and hair, and his strange manner, the man had gone about the jail, healing prisoners of their illnesses, it was asserted.

Yesterday, when he appeared before Justice J. B. Cox for trial on vagrancy charges, the case was dismissed. All efforts to ascertain his identity had failed.

BUILDING AND LOAN BODY PICKS OFFICES

According to announcement made today by Cotton Mather, secretary, offices of the Community Mutual Building and Loan association of Orange county will be temporarily in the room occupied by Mrs. B. E. Turner, insurance, and C. M. McCain, real estate dealer, at 104 West Fourth street. It is expected that the headquarters will be there for two months, and that a permanent location will be arranged for in the meantime.

Mather said that interest of the investing public is being aroused in the new institution and he predicted a big growth and development in the first year of its activity.

CITRUS GROWERS HEAR EXPERT GIVE COUNSEL ON FARM MANAGEMENT

R. V. Wright, farm account specialist of the Agricultural Extension Service, today was giving the citrus men of Orange county a lecture on and a demonstration of a system of farm management at a meeting held at the city hall. H. E. Wahlberg, farm advisor, introduced Wright to the attending citrus growers.

The lecture and demonstration will be repeated tomorrow at 9:30 a. m. at the city hall to the walnut growers of the county. The week's farm management school will close Saturday morning at a general meeting at the farm bureau office, according to W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor.

"Anyone unable to attend the other classes," Cory said, "is invited to attend the meeting Saturday morning at the farm bureau office at 9:30 a. m. This will be the last class of this school."

PLANS FOR EYESIGHT CONSERVATION DRIVE IN STATE OUTLINED

Members of the Orange County Optometrists' association today were considering plans to aid in the program for the year of the State league for the Conservation of Vision as outlined at a meeting at the Cat N'Fiddle here late last night by officers of the California Optometrists' association now on a tour of inspection in the state.

Dr. George I. Deane of Merced, president of the state association, told of the movement and urged the co-operation of local associations. Among other things considered by the state officers was that of extending the work of optometrical examiners in the public schools of the state.

Dr. Edwin Armstrong, of the Los Angeles School of Optometry, explained in detail the course in optometry now offered at the University of California.

Beside President Deane, the officers at the meeting included Dr. E. Dick Crawford, secretary of the state association; Dr. Richard Fulford, president of the Central California association, and Walter Diedrich, manager of an optical company in Los Angeles.

BATTERY CASE FINE LACKS, MAN JAILED

William Chrissman pleaded guilty to a charge of battery brought by Theodore Langworthy, September 9, 1922, when he came before Justice J. C. Cox today.

Then when the court fined him $5, he refused to pay.

Thereupon he began the first lap of a five-day sentence in the county jail.

GERMANY CAN PAY—"France had great regions devastated during the war," say the French, "while Germany had none. France had the factories of its principal industrial district destroyed; German factories are intact. France has already found many times more money, to repair these districts, than Germany has paid in reparations. Germany owes this money to repair German devastations. If France, crippled, has been able to find the money, Germany, intact, can find the money to repay it. Germany can pay."

True. Germany can pay and should pay. But only a fiscally sound Germany can pay. Germany's factories may be intact, but Germany's financial system is wrecked. And paying is a problem of finance. Germany can pay—not all the losses of war, but doubtless fifty billion gold marks of them. But it takes an operative Germany to pay. The French policy would produce a non-operative Germany. Out of the salvage of non-operative institutions you can gather loot. You can not get products out of it. Only a constructive policy toward Germany can produce constructive results. Germany can pay. But not with her hands tied and a rope around her neck.

The Discount Business

DISCOUNTING commercial paper—financing the merchants—is one of the greatest fields for legitimate profit known to the business world, yet it is safer than the merchants' business. It is a business akin to banking.

DISCOUNTING

Without discount corporations, the strides that have been made by many of the major industries of the country today would have been impossible. The automobile industry would have had little advancement had it not been for discount companies. It has been one of THE most important factors in the progress of American business.

PROFITS

Money when engaged in business enterprises where the capital is turned over many times each year, each time at a profit, multiplies very fast. And when the profits of each transaction are added to the principal and in turn multiplied by the same "turnover" method, the annual earnings become enormous.

PURPOSE

THE FEDERAL DISCOUNT CORPORATION OF CALIFORNIA is organized for the purpose of discounting the first-class commercial paper of the furniture and household appliance dealers of Southern California. Think of the number of homes that have been furnished on the partial payment plan, then think of this vast amount of paper that must be carried for the dealer. Then you will realize the fertile field in which THE FEDERAL DISCOUNT CORPORATION operates. Already this company has been offered business in excess of $2,000,000. We will be glad to furnish, upon request, detailed information of the substantial profits to be made. Your inquiry in no way carries obligation.

NAVEL ORANGE TRACT SOLD TO TUSTIN MAN

Papers were in escrow today under which Dr. F. W. Slabaugh, county purchasing agent, is transferring ownership of seven acres of navel oranges at Tustin to W. Hoxie, of Tustin. It is understood that the consideration was $28,000, and that the amount in full was to be paid in cash.

The tract is east of the new residence which Dr. Slabaugh erected a few months ago, and which is on a three-acre tract. The property is sometimes known as the E. R. Maury place. A six-room residence stands on the premises. Hoxie said he probably would move to his new property, but had not yet definitely decided. At the present time he is residing on Newport road, near its junction with D street, Tustin.

HARDING RECOVERING FROM GRIPPE ATTACK

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—President Harding's heavy cold is breaking up, it was stated at the White House today. The President, while feeling much better, will rest in the mansion for another day or so, it was announced. Today's engagements were cancelled.

HEALTH TALK NO. 8
By J. G. Kelly, D. C.

While Chiropractic Adjustments are a most wonderful safeguard against sickness, and although the results I am getting in acute cases are remarkable, my success is largely due to the extraordinary results in long standing chronic cases.

So many of these chronic cases give just one reason for coming to me. They say they have spent so much money trying everything else that they "might just as well grab at the last straw." The irresistible longing for health and happiness impels them to try Chiropractic.

Can you realize the genuine enthusiasm of these sufferers when under my care they actually experience the results they have so long hoped and sought for?

Are YOU a sufferer with sickness? Have YOU tried the other ways of getting well? Then why not try my way—the Chiropractic way? Don't allow prejudice to keep you from getting back your health. Make up your mind today to investigate. Let me give you a full explanation of what Chiropractic will do for you, and why it is the better way to health.

NERVOUS WOMAN
COMPLETE WRECK

Tells How She Was Made Well
by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Indianapolis, Ind.—"Now I want to tell you just what induced me to take your medicine. It seemed that I had some kind of weakness so that I could not carry a child its full time. The last time I was troubled this way I had a nervous breakdown and was a complete wreck. The doctor thought I would not live, and I was in a very bad way. I did not feel well and strong again. But I told them I was going to get well, that I was not going to die just then. My husband got me
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took six bottles of it.
I soon got strong again and had three more children. I have recommended the Vegetable Compound ever since, and if you could see me now you would think I had always been well."—
MARY F. HERRICK, 234 Detroit St., Indianapolis, Ind.
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for expectant mothers and should be taken during the entire period. It has a general effect to strengthen and tone up the entire reproductive system, so that it may work in every respect effectually as nature intends.

NEWS BRIEFS

Residents of the San Juan Capistrano section today were in receipt of notices of a public meeting to be held at the schoolhouse there tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock at which time a second attempt will be made to establish a sanitary district. The gathering will be held under the direction of Dr. W. Leland Mitchell, county health officer, and officers from the state board of health. Dr. F. C. Veach, state sanitary inspector; J. W.
Goudy, member of the state board of health, and Dr. Mitchell, will be among the speakers.

Orange county and Santa Ana residents, who formerly lived in either Utah or Idaho, today were planning to attend the all-day picnic of former residents of these two states which will be held at Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles, January 29. All picnicers have been asked to bring their own lunch. Coffee will be provided. A musical and speaking program has been arranged. County registers will be maintained.

Tractor school equipment today was expected to arrive here early next week to be in readiness for the school which will be held at Anaheim from January 29 to February 3, W. M. Cory, assistant farm adviser, said today.

L. H. Wakeham was elected director from Orange county to the Milk Producers' association at the annual meeting held at Los Angeles yesterday. W. M. Cory, assistant farm adviser, said here today.
Among Orange county dairymen who attended the meeting were F.
H. Plavan, Steve Grisett, H. L.
Wakeham, F. H. Finney, E. G. Stinson, Andrew A. Moore, Ray McClintock, Clair McClintock, H. H. Covell, R. D. Luther, and J. T. Raitt.

Boy Scout day was to be celebrated by the Kiwanis club at La Habra at a luncheon there today, according to announcement of Roland E. Dye, executive of the Orange county council, Boy Scouts of America. The Lions club at Anaheim is scheduled to hold Boy Scout day at its luncheon tomorrow, he said.

Earl B. Friend, graduate of the Santa Ana high school and now assistant cashier of the First National bank at Dinuba, Cal., and Mrs. Friend, today were visiting here with Mr. and Mrs. J. A.
Dowell, 510 South Main street. Mr. and Mrs. Friend will remain here several days before returning to their home.

Prepared to handle a full line of Remington typewriters and supplies, Harry Epstein, authorized agent in Orange county for the Remington Typewriter company, today was located at 104 West Fourth street, Santa Ana. He will specialize in the rebuilding and overhauling of typewriters. The great demand for specialized Remington typewriter service in this district caused the company to establish an authorized agent here, Epstein said.

SPECIAL MEETING.
Santa Ana

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy shown us during the death of Mrs. Jennie Francis Reid. Also for the many beautiful floral offerings.
L. W. H. OGARA.

CARD OF THANKS
We desire to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy shown us in our recent bereavement; also for the beautiful flowers.

Blake, aged 78 years, who passed away yesterday at the residence of her son, E. M. Blake, on South Bristol street, will be held from the Church of the Messiah, Saturday at 10 a. m., under the direction of the Wimbler Mission funeral home.
Burial to be made at Prescott, Ariz.

To Reduce Dangerous
Varicose Veins

People who have swollen veins or bunches should not wait until they reach the bursting point, which means suffering and loss of time, but should at once secure from any reliable druggist a two-ounce original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength).
By using this powerful, yet harmless germicide treatment improvement is noticed in a few days and by its regular use swollen veins will return to their normal size and sufferers will cease to worry. Moore's Emerald Oil treatment is used by physicians and in hospitals and is guaranteed to accomplish results or money returned.
It reduces all kinds of enlarged glands, gouts and wens and is used extensively in many large factories as an unfailing first aid to the injured antiseptic. Your druggist can supply you—adv.

FOLK ON LYON BUSINESS MEN STREET FIGHT
SPUR PLAN

In an admitted effort to forestall any attempt that might be made to build a spur line of the Pacific Electric railway to the Mutual Orange Distributors' packing house near the east city limits, fifteen residents of Lyon street had today filed with J. M. Backs, clerk of the board of supervisors, a petition asking the board to refuse a permit for any such line.

This action was seen as a blow at whatever attempt the Pacific Electric railway might make to run a spur line to Tustin.

"Lyon street is a residential section," one of the petitioners said today. "That packing house doesn't pack enough oranges to support a railroad. We don't want street cars and trains clattering past our houses."

An official of the packing association today claimed ignorance of a plan to construct a spur, or of any action against such a project.
Those who signed the petition were:

Albert Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. John Van Wyck, Charles Van Wyck, Walter Meyers, B. F. Tucker, J. S.
House, Evaline Levon, Mae Irvin
Wells, Fred J. Davis, C. H. Halderman, Margaret Allen, Everett A.
White, Ellen E. Fuller, Edith Sheridan, Margaret S. Fay.

LOVE QUEST BRIDE
LEAVES HOSPITAL

Dissuaded from her asserted suicidal intentions by a profer of aid from a naval man in San Diego, Maybelle Shreve Butler, 20, bride of a month, who thrice attempted to end her life, and who had been confined at the county hospital as a result, left here today for the Bay city.

Because a man with whom she said she had been living in Los Angeles, left her for his wife, the girl had attempted to kill herself, she told authorities here.
She threatened to carry out her intention as soon as she was released from the hospital.

In response to telegrams, however, the San Diego, whom hospital attaches said was Thomas Gibson, and who was said to be confined in a naval hospital at the southern city, told the girl that he would care for her, and asked here to join him. She left early this morning.

JAIL PAIR AS WOMAN HURT
IN CRASH

Mrs. William Cutsinger, Independence, Kans., was at the county hospital, and Adam Saloni and Leo Schultz were held in the county jail today pending investigation as a result of an automobile collision on North Main street near Levita avenue about 5 p. m. yesterday, in which Mrs. Cutsinger was severely injured.

A car, driven by Cutsinger, collided with a coupe driven by Schultz, as the latter turned to the left side of the street to enter a driveway, according to a report made by Deputy Sheriff Ed Mc-Lellan and F. J. Yates.

Schultz and Saloni were held when they could not locate T. J.
Burrow, Enid, Okla., from whom they said they borrowed the coupe. Burrow was finally located, but he was unable to furnish proof of his ownership of the car, and the men were being detained pending investigation of this angle.

The coupe containing the two men and Mrs. C. A. Michael was traveling south, when Mrs. Michael suggested that they stop at a house on the left of the highway, it was said. The driver turned the car too quickly for the Cutsinger machine to stop, and a collision resulted, according to reports.

The coupe was overturned and the other car damaged. Mrs.
Cutsinger was taken to the Orange county hospital, where x-ray examinations showed that she was suffering from the fracture of several ribs and severe strains and bruises. Cutsinger sustained bruises and minor lacerations.

A petition which asked for the repair of the county highway to San Juan hot springs, and which bore 285 names, was filed here today with J. M. Backs, clerk of the board of supervisors. Each of the petitioners had traversed the highway in question recently, the petition stated.

Members of Santa Ana lodge, Fraternal Brotherhood will meet at the Woodman hall tonight to hear Judge Francis Bartle, district manager, explain the plans for a three months' membership drive.
The plan was drawn up last week during a social gathering of officers of the organization at the home of Judge and Mrs. Bartle.

All former dwellers in the Plouse valley, whether on the Washington or the Idaho side of the boundary line, were today completing plans for a great reunion at Orange county park, Saturday, January 20.
The picnic was planned by former Plouse valley folk who now call California their home, to entertain those who are here only for the winter. Every person from that section is urged to pack a picnic basket and join the line of travel to the park at 9 a. m. Saturday.

Men, bring out your gym togs.

The Y. M. C. A. playground will be ready for the first onslaught of the businessmen's volley ball teams early next week. R. C.
Smedley, building secretary of the Santa Ana association, announced today.

More than sixty business men of this city have signed for the privileges of the playground, and Smedley expects to see the various courts busy at all hours immediately that the grounds are declared open for business.

The locker and shower room today was virtually complete, and plumbers were installing the shower equipment, he said. The overhead lights for illuminating the grounds at night have been wired.
The last touches were being put on the wire fence that encloses the grounds.

The "Y" playground forms the initial step in the Young Men's Christian Association plan toward building a permanent "Y" home here.

The grounds are situated at the rear of the old Washington school property, which was acquired for the $200,000 club building to be erected this year. The school building has been razed and the grounds have been cleared for the new building.

Plans and specifications of the "Y" building are almost ready to be submitted to interested contractors, and Smedley said he expects advertising for bids will be begun February 1.

'BOHEMIAN GIRL'
GIVEN AT ANAHEIM

With three successful performances of grand opera to their credit, members of the Orange County Choral union and their director, Ellis Rhodes, were today receiving the delighted congratulations of their friends for the manner in which "The Bohemian Girl" was presented last night at the Anaheim high school auditorium.

With several Anaheim members of the choral union appearing in the production, the suggestion from business men of that city that the opera should be staged there was received with much enthusiasm and last night's successful performance was the result.

The big auditorium was comfortably well filled and with an enthusiastic audience, one which remained alike upon the excellence of the individual actors, the chorus, the orchestra and the direction.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Rhodes left this morning for Anaheim to superintend the packing of properties to return to the Flagg company of Los Angeles and from there were going to Redlands, where Mr. Rhodes devoted certain days each week to his duties as head of the music department of the college.

Future plans of the choral union will be definitely decided upon at an early date when plans for the operatic offering to follow the oratorio will be discussed, it was stated.

BUILD 10 HOUSES AT HUNTINGTON SQUARE

Huntington Square completes the week with ten houses under construction and with material on the ground for two more which will be started next week. D. C. Huntington, the subdivider, will begin the construction of his own residence the first of next week. City work is being put in the tract and the contract for sewers will be let the early part of the week. Contractor Scott Prather will begin laying sidewalks and placing curbs Monday.

SEEK L. A. SLAYING SUSPECT ON BORDER

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 18.—With a complaint charging murder filed against R. C. Springer of La Verne, owner of the death car from which William S. Fieger,
"under-cover" operative of the police department, was shot and killed Tuesday, an intensive search was being conducted today along the border for Leo M.
Williford, Springer's roommate, who police charged in a murder complaint with doing the actual shooting.

JUSTICE COX STAR
WITNESS AT TRIAL

Justice J. B. Cox was the state's star witness today in the trial, before Superior Judge R. Y. Williams, of Manuel Savala, charged with a second offense of petit larceny.

Justice Cox enlivened the proceedings with his quick testimony, delivered in his customary brusque manner. He remembered, he said, when Savala had been convicted in his court six years ago, although the man appeared at that time under another name.
Spirited cross-examination on the part of Defense Attorney H. G.
Ames failed to shake his story.

Police Officers Robert Elliott and James Murray told of their experiences with Savala, and of his arrest on a charge of stealing a bicycle.

The jury consisted of L. R.
Whitney, Erman C. D. Wynneken,
Alfred Leach, Eva L. Gage, Flora

"THE GOLD DIGGERS" ON YOST STAGE HERE TONIGHT
At the Yost theater tonight, David Belasco will present one of the most successful plays that he has given to the public during his long career as a producing manager.
The play is "The Gold Diggers," by Avery Hopwood, which, during its two years run in New York, was frequently alluded to by the dramatic critics as "The best entertainment of the season." Of its entertainments qualities there is not the slightest doubt, as it reveals, in the most humorous and blithesome fashion, the colorful life of typical New York chorus girls. The picture presented is a very true one, with just a touch of sentiment and a hint of tragedy now and then to make the gaiety sparkle with greater brilliancy.
The company, which is headed by Gertrude Vanderbilt, is now on its first transcontinental tour, having appeared, up to the present season, only in New York, Chicago and important eastern cities.

EARLE WILLIAMS IN NEW ROLE AT PRINCESS Earle Williams, known as the wearer of typically handsome clothes and as the portrayal of strictly gentleman roles, surprised those on Vitagraph's western lot by engaging in a free for all fight in a scene for "Fortune's Mask," which will be shown at the Princess theater tonight and tomorrow.
Williams engaged in a frantic battle with a Central American commandante and a gang of the latter's soldiers. Oliver Hardy, who takes the part of the commandante, is a gigantic man and powerful. In the scene where Williams, as Dickey, escaped from jail and encounters the enemy he engages in a fist battle which resulted in several soldiers spending an uncomfortable night as the suit of Williams' energetic efforts.

TOM MOORE IN "PAWNEE" AT WEST END.
Tom Moore, featured in "Pawnee," the present attraction at the West End theater, has long enjoyed great popularity among motion picture fans. His earliest screen experience was obtained with the old-line Kalem and Lubin companies. In "Brawn of Harvard," produced by the Selig company, he won his spurs as a star.
His most recent stellar productions have been Goldwyn pictures, among them "Thirty a Week," "Go West, Young Man," "A Man and His Money," "One of the Finest,"
"Lord and Lady Alky," "The Gay Lord Quex," "City of Comrades," "Toby's Bow," "Duds," "The Great Accident," "Stop Thief," "Hold Your Horses," and "Made in Heaven."

In "Pawnee," Moore has one of the best roles of his career, a role which permits him to display his talents as an actor of unusual versatility to the best possible advantage. Edith Roberts is the other featured member of the cast which also includes Charles Gerard, Josef Swickard, James Barrows, and Billy Elmer.

"THE DANGEROUS AGE" DUE AT YOST TOMORROW
"Are you married?" asked the girl.

THEATERS

Lewis Stone and Ruth Clifford in a scene from "The Dangerous Age," picture which opens at the Yost theater tomorrow.

"No," lied the man.
Then began a strange series of complications, which are depicted in a fascinating manner in "The Dangerous Age," the big picture scheduled for the Yost screen beginning tomorrow.
The tensely dramatic nature of the theme and the many specu-lar episodes involved make this one of the outstanding productions of the year. An especially brilliant galaxy of stars was selected by Stahl for the cast of "The Dangerous Age," the list including Lewis Stone, Ruth Clifford, Edith Roberts, Cleo Madison, Helen Lynch, Myrtle Stedman, James Morrison, Richard Tucker, Lincoln Stedman and Edward Burns. J. G. Hawks and Bess Meredith prepared the scenario for the picture and it was photographed by Jack Rose.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Peterson were expected to arrive tomorrow from their trip to the Shoemen's convention in Chicago for which they took their departure on New Year's day. During their absence Mrs.
Peterson's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Johnson, of Wisconsin, have been occupying the Peterson home, on South Sycamore street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson and their daughter, Miss June Johnson of Kensil, South Dakota, who are spending the winter in Los Angeles with Mrs. Johnson's mother and brother, Mrs. Nelson and Hubert Nelson, have arrived for a few days' visit with their relatives here, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Lykke, 609 North Van Ness street.
Miss Evelyn Nunn, who recently underwent an operation for the removal of her tonsils, is planning to leave late this week for Elsinore, where she will rest and recuperate for a few weeks.

Woman's Union

The Woman's Union and Missionary department of the First Congregational church met in the church parlors Wednesday for an all-day meeting. In the morning the union held a business session, presided over by Mrs. R. W. Hobart, when numerous plans for the coming year were discussed.

At the close of this session the ladies adjourned to the dining room where a picnic lunch was served.

At 1:30 p. m. the meeting was called to order by Mrs. C. F. Crose, of the Missionary department,
with devotional service led by Mrs.
Herman Smith, after which Mrs.
T. B. Kelly gave a review of the first chapter of the study book, "Building With India," which proved most interesting.

"Radio messages" were then given from both foreign and home fields by Mrs. Freeman Bloodgood.

A scene from "Pawnee," attraction now showing at the West End theater.

and Mrs. Fred Rowland, two violin solos were rendered by Miss Elva Chapman, accompanied by Miss Norma Grover, to the enjoyment of everyone present, and a business session was held, followed by a social half hour.

Past Matrons

With Mrs. O. M. Robbins, Mrs.
Max Reinhaus and Mrs. Ella Palmer as hostesses, members of the Past Matrons' association of Hermosa chapter, O. E. S., will enjoy a 1 o'clock luncheon at the Masonic temple, Tuesday, January 23.

Those finding it impossible to be present are requested to notify Mrs. Robbins not later than Saturday.

Calumpit Auxiliary

Members of Calumpit Camp No.
26 and its auxiliary, held a most enjoyable social meeting recently in G. A. R. hall, with sixty persons present.

Games were the main feature of the evening, and Mrs. Emma Wassum acted as mistress of ceremonies, ably assisted by Mrs.
Bertha N. Dixon and Mrs. Nannie Reed. Following the games was an old fashioned taffy pull.

Chief among the amusement features was the wedding ceremony performed by "Bishop" Tantlinger for Mr. and Mrs. M.
C. Cooper, who were celebrating their twenty-second wedding anniversary.

At a time when all present were lined up for a game, Mr. and Mrs. Cooper were asked to take their place between the two rows with four pretty girls and little Elizabeth Wassum placed in position ahead of them. The couple were then instructed to march to the head of the line, and followed order without realizing what was intended. Miss Audrey Isbell swung into the wedding march and little Elizabeth Wassum as "flower girl" showered confetti in the bridal pathway which led to the "bishop" who pronounced a weird marriage ceremony in which Mrs.
Cooper promised to "humor, hen-peck and disobey" her spouse, to whom she was re-wedded by means of a bracelet.

A new committee will present the next social event of the two orders and is expected to offer many pleasant affairs to cope with the efficient committee which is retiring.

RESEARCH EXPERTS GET DATA FOR "ROBIN HOOD" Gathering historical facts is by no means a small job when Douglas Fairbanks undertakes to make a super-production, such as his latest photoplay sensation,
"Douglas Fairbanks in Robin Hood," now showing at the Temple theater here.
Fairbanks gathered about him experts in every line. First he obtained the services of specialists in research work—men considered the foremost authorities on history in the twelfth century.
Dr. Arthur Woods, considered the best informed authority on this period in the country, headed this work.
It was necessary for Dr. Woods and his assistants to search through libraries both in the United States and abroad in order that this great picture might be an exact portrayal of mediaeval England in the twelfth century.
After this work had been gotten under way there came the task of selecting art directors.
These had to be dreamers as well as artists, for Fairbanks wanted men who not only could stick to historical facts where facts were obtainable, but who could draw on their imagination for the legendary part of the picture.
Under the supervision of Wilfred Buckland, the art direction was in the very capable hands of Irvin J. Martin, Edward M. Langley and James Mitchell Leisen.
Buckland is the man, who while in college, wrote his thesis on the Norman Period. He is now considered the foremost authority in America on the architecture of this age.
Martin is responsible for the designs of the atmospheric settings and effects. In order to get the real impression of 800 years ago, new methods had to be devised. Sets had to be designed in which decoration, realism and fairy-tale quality were properly balanced.
Langley was in charge of the designing and construction of all properties, such as furniture, draperies, arms, armor, trappings and pottery.
Leisen was in charge of general decoration and the designing of costumes. The combination of decoration, realism and impression applies to costuming as well as to background effects. Costumes had to be made so that they had all the decorative beauty and loveliness of our dreams of this wonderful period, yet so carefully designed and conceived that the people actually live as today instead of eight centuries ago.

BOLD AIRMAN SEEKS

DAYTON, O., Jan. 18.—Lieut.
Allen Pearson, McCook Field pilot, took off for New York at 11:30 a.
m. today in an effort to smash the four and a half hour flying record for that distance.
Pearson, taking advantage of a 70 mile wind at an altitude of 7,000 feet, expects to make the trip in three hours. He will land at Mitchell Field.

directors. This is the largest number of votes in the history of the local organization and resulted in the election of fifteen directors: Waldo Okelly, R. T.

The famed roar of the Lions as it emanated from St. Ann's Inn last night, was a most hospitable and friendly roar, and in some cases, a merry one, for there were surely roars of laughter from both Lions and their guests, as witty remarks scintillated during the Rev. Perry F. Schrock's reign as toastmaster.

Over one hundred persons, Lions and their guests, were seated at the attractive tables in the dining-room of the Inn where the first social function under the new regime of officers was presented. With Harry Hanson, recently installed president, in charge, the Rev. Mr. Schrock was appointed to the position of toast master with no advance intimation of the fact, due, according to the president, to a desire to see "if he was always loud."

Mr. Hanson admitted that he found out and that the answer was in the affirmative, for the fun was fast and furious and never lagged for one second. Fines imposed on members were numerous and highly entertaining to the visitors who saw some of the inner workings of such an organization, with much interest.

The introduction of toy balloons added merriment to the dinner, and for unusual ways in which balloons may yield excitement, those interested might consult any member of the Lion's club.

Soon after the guests were seated at the tables, adorned with red carnations and smilax, G. A. Schweiger, "mine-host" at the Inn, entered with a great box filled with corsage bouquets of violets which were distributed to all the women guests present with the compliments of Mr. Hanson, a gracious and appreciated courtesy.

An entertaining musical program arranged by a committee composed of Lions M. B. Lacy, Frank Miller, C. E. Prior, Lester Carden and James Livesey Jr., was given at intervals during the dinner and also the dancing which followed.

With Mrs. Harry Brackett at the piano for the various numbers, the first solo was given by "Hughey," otherwise James E. Hughes, who sang "Mandalay" following it with the mournful beauty of "One Fleeting Hour" to which Edward Burns offered a cello obbligato.

Other numbers during the dinner hour were given by Mrs. Walter Leecraft whose lovely voice was heard in "Expectancy" and "The Year's at the Spring."

The Chapman orchestra gave the usual flawless music for the dancing which followed the delicious turkey dinner. Mrs. Fred Chapman resigning her place at the piano at intervals to Mrs. Brackett when vocal solos were offered by Mrs. Edward Hummel and Mrs. Thomas Willis Jr.

Mrs. Hummel sang a two number group, "The Swiss Echo Song" and "Good-bye" both sung with the charm and vivacity that Santa Ana has learned to expect from her.

Mrs. Willis with her rich contralto, gave a quaint little Negro campmeeting song, "I've Got a Big Trial."

The program of dances included cymbal numbers and a grand march to the strains of Lohengrin, thus recognizing the wedding anniversary of the Lester Cardens, who yesterday were celebrating.

Hospitality Night At John Muir School

Plans were today being completed for the entertainment to be offered all friends of the new John Muir school who will gather at the school house on East Fourth street tomorrow night at 7:30 to survey the handsome building and enjoy the hospitality of the teaching staff and the P. T. A.

In addition to the bazaar, which will be a feature of the evening with a view to raising funds to equip the kitchen, will be a program presenting orchestra music, songs and recitations in unison by dramatization of "Chicken Little" by the first grade children; solo dance, "Air de Ballet," by Marguerite Taylor; song, "Petty Little Bluebird" by Vivian White; physical training drill by pupils of fourth, fifth and sixth grades; a song group by the second grade and readings by Mrs. John Clark-son.

Picture framing, is one of our specialties. We have a nice line of moldings of all widths, colors and designs. We turn the work out promptly and have yet to hear of a complaint on our charges. We have dozens of swing frames, large and small, single and double for your photographs. 315 W. 4th. Goff Gift & Art Shop.

Efficiency Club

With F. W. Todd of Anaheim acting as installing officer, new officers of the Efficiency club of the Southern Counties Gas company were formally installed last night at a splendidly attended meeting in the recreation rooms of the local office.

The club was conceived and instituted by Mr. Todd in 1916 during his position as head of the local district, in the place now occupied by J. C. Hayden. It has grown and flourished until it has assumed an important place in the organization, with its policy of efficiency, co-operation, service and loyalty.

For the first time in its history, the place as president will be filled by one of the men from the general office rather than by the manager as has been the custom.

H. G. Miller was the one selected for the honor and was installed last night with appropriate ceremonies together with Fred G. Merker, vice-president; F. Wollaston, recording secretary; F. C. Fisher, corresponding secretary, and Tom Aldenderfer, treasurer.

President Miller named many committees, among them music, finance and auditing committees. Of these, the music chairman, C. R. Brower, surprised those present by producing a quartette, Messrs. Brower, Lyman Nelson, Doyle Kirkham and S. Hilders who gave some stirring songs and promised many musical surprises for future meetings.

The membership of eighty-five will journey to Long Beach in the near future when the initiatory staff of this club will present their original ceremonial work at a meeting of the Long Beach club.

Another interesting meeting of the future will be in February, when the woman members will present a banquet.

Delphian Society

A "get-acquainted" luncheon for all Delphians of Southern California, to which members of the Santa Ana Delphian society are looking forward with much pleasurable anticipation, will be held January 25 at the new Elite, 641 South Flower street, Los Angeles.

Santa Ana members who plan to attend are making their reservations through Mrs. J. C. Schmidt, 2055 North Main street, and have until Saturday noon to make further arrangements. It has been stated that reservations once made cannot be cancelled since all places reserved must be guaranteed the caterers.

Following the luncheon at 12 o'clock will come the regular assembly program holding matters of keen interest for all chapters.

Woman's Club

Mrs. W. E. Talbott was genial hostess recently to members of the Santa Ana Woman's club, who met with her at her home, 528 South Broadway, with Dr. Evelyn Peo in her capacity as president, opening the session in her usual form.

With Mrs. C. H. Stanley at the piano, community singing was enjoyed, led by Mrs. C. F. Crose, after which the business session opened with the unanimous election to membership of Mrs. Walter Moore and Mrs. J. Ford.

It was remarked that the growth of the club is so rapid that it may be possible to make some arrangement about clubrooms since few members have homes which will accommodate the membership very much longer if the present growth keeps up.

Announcement of committees for the entertainment and program to be presented at the birthday luncheon of the club at St. Ann's Inn, February 6, led to the arrangement for those committees to meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Crose when Mrs. Jack Taylor, Mrs. P. H. Toole, Mrs. C. E. Wells, Mrs. Marian Brett and Mrs. C. Clemmons of the program committee and Mrs. J. C. Clark, Mrs. C. F. Crose and Mrs. C. M. Dearing of the music committee, will complete plans.

All members were advised to make their reservations for the luncheon not later than February 4, by telephoning Mrs. Henry Diers or Mrs. Frank Ey.

Mrs. I. D. Annis and Mrs. C. M. Williams then presented interesting reviews of Harold Bell Wright's book, "Helen of the Old House," after which roll call was answered with favorite authors.

During the social hours, Mrs. Charles Holcomb and Mrs. J. McMahon were greeted as guests.

The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. J. H. Northrup, 1013 North Broadway, when Mrs. Victor Montgomery, district and county chairman of California history and landmarks will speak.

POLY TENNIS TEAM DEFEATS ANAHEIM

Without losing a single set, Miss Nellie Wilson's Santa Ana high school tennis team yesterday afternoon scored a 25 to 0 victory over the racquet wielders of Anaheim high school in the first tournament of the season for either outfit. It was a practice match and was played on the Poly courts.

Johnny Cross, star first singles man of the Santa Ana squad, had little difficulty in disposing of Fred Ambrose of the Mother Colony team in straight sets, 6-1 and 6-2. Cross's placing of shots and clever returns were too much for the visitor.

Randolph Bell, of Poly, easily bested Mark Kuffel in the second singles scrap, 6-1 and 6-1. Bell was master of the situation throughout and wore his opponent down with beautiful base-line shots.

Bert Wardrip and Arch Tuthill, of Santa Ana, grabbed the men's doubles by defeating Bob Lewis and Hugh Kiler, 7-5 and 6-3.

Other results follow:

Girls' first singles—Miss Frances Crocrot, (S. A.), defeated Miss

Marguerite Lorange, (A.), 6-4 and 6-0.

Girls' second singles—Miss Enid Twist, (S. A.), defeated Miss Marion Watts, (A.), 6-4 and 6-1.

Girls' doubles—Miss Theima Patton and Miss Josephine Crookshank, (S. A.), defeated Martha Adams and Miss Florence Austin, (A.), 6-3 and 6-1.

Mixed doubles—Miss Frances Crocrot and Keith Beissel, (S. A.), defeated Miss Honor Easton and Howard Clow, (A.), 6-1 and 6-1.

SANTA CLAUS COMES TO BOUTS AT DELHI

Gatten, Doty and Aguirre Hang Out Socks, Receive Lucky Draw Verdicts

DELHI RESULTS.

Henry Gatten—"Fighting Joe" Grimm, draw.

Jack Dunn-Jimmy Kramer, draw.

Battling Doty won from Kid Tex, decision.

Young Monroe-Tommy Aguirre, draw.

Young Murphy won from Jack McClellan, third.

Bennie Diaz stopped Sailor Dumphy, second.

There were no Christmas bouts at the Delhi arena when the Yuletide season was here and they had to turn back the calendar a little last night to make it Christmas eve again.

Referee "Chick" Brown, without reindeer or white whiskers, played the Santa Claus role and gave out the presents.

Hank Gatten, Battling Doty and Tommy Aguirre all put out their empty socks and Santa Claus came along and filled each to overflowing with a draw decision.

"Fighting Joe" Grimm, an old-timer from the East whose knees aren't as shaky as Jack Martin's, was one of the boys Santa Claus should have treated with more respect. Kid Tex and Young Monroe were the other gentlemen Old Nick forgot.

Martin Fails to Show.

Jack Martin didn't show for his go with Gatten and the bugs were disappointed until the main tilt got under way. "Fighting Joe" Grimm sat in his corner and heard the boys tell how the rough and rugged Martin was afraid to take on Gatten. Then Mr. Grimm proceeded to hand Hank a lacing in every round only to get a draw verdict for his trouble.

"Chick" Brown slipped up three times but at that he looked good as that third man in the ring. It is seldom he blows a decision so it was just his off-night last night. The boys have to fight when he's the arbiter.

Jack Dunn and Jimmy Kramer, the latter substituting for Freddie

Allison, went four rather uninteresting spasms to a draw. Kramer caught Dunn flush on the jaw with a smashing right in the first round and Dunn retaliated with the same punch in the second. Both boys got wary and cuffed and hugged their way through until the last bell.

Awarded 'Lucky Draw.

Tommy Aguirre had the heart of the crowd with him. He is a nice, clean little fighter and in there mixing all the time but he got the luckiest draw ever dished out at Delhi. Young Monroe left handed him from corner to corner, dropped him three times in one round and had him hanging on the last half of the final canto. Aguirre partly made up for the knockdowns by sending Monroe to the mat twice, but the Los Angeles southpaw had a shade in every round. "This mill was easily the best of the evening."

The Doty-Tex decision wasn't so bad but the red-headed egg from the Lone Star state had enough edge to warrant a verdict his way. Tex had his man in a bad way in both the second and third. Brown evidently figured Doty's clean knockdown in the fourth evened up matters. Doty looked like "Delhi" Fredericks last night—he could give but couldn't take.

McClellan Breaks Hand.

Jack McClellan, wearing a gymnasium suit and about thirty pounds more than Young Murphy, burlesqued two rounds and then broke his hand in the third and retired. While he was in there McClellan gave the bugs a lot of laughs. Murphy was far too clever for the beach boy, despite the weight disparity.

Bennie Diaz begins to look like a regular on the Delhi menu. He dropped Sailor Dumphy, one of the Huntington Beach quartette, like a red hot iron in the second frame and knocked him colder than a Greenland when Dumphy struggled to his feet.

GROVE TEAMS WIN FROM LOCAL J. H. S.

The Santa Ana junior high school ninth grade basketball squad was divided into two teams yesterday afternoon and both aggregations suffered defeats in tilts played at Garden Grove.

The outfit termed as squad No. 1 lost to the Garden Grove ninth graders, 29 to 12, and squad No. 2 dropped its court argument by the score of 12 to 10.

Closed Cars That Endure

There are two distinct types of closed cars. Consider them carefully before you buy.

One features a low price and furnishes but temporary shelter against inclement weather. Inferior materials are used to reduce costs. Workmanship and finish are cheap and coachwork is makeshift.

The other type of closed bodies is represented by Studebaker quality, for which there is no substitute.

Studebaker enclosed bodies give years of satisfactory service—sturdy one-piece ash pillars extend the full height of the body; wind and rain and sun and a decade of use will never warp the panels; doors shut positively and accurately; protection is afforded against rattles, squeaks and dust, and the wide doors make it easy to get in or out.

They are beautiful and in good taste, inside and out, as you want your car and your home to be. They are as comfortable as your favorite easy chair—pampering craftsmanship makes that possible.

Naturally Studebaker closed cars are completely equipped—for the same reason that your living room is completely furnished.

When you buy a Studebaker closed car, you buy a body that is worthy of a Studebaker chassis.

There is not the slightest compromise in either—in design, materials, workmanship or appearance. Depreciation is therefore low and satisfaction with Studebaker closed cars universal.

Prices are as low as is commensurate with highest quality. The Studebaker body plants and facilities exceed those of any other automobile manufacturer. Studebaker is unsurpassed in resources and ability to give maximum intrinsic value.

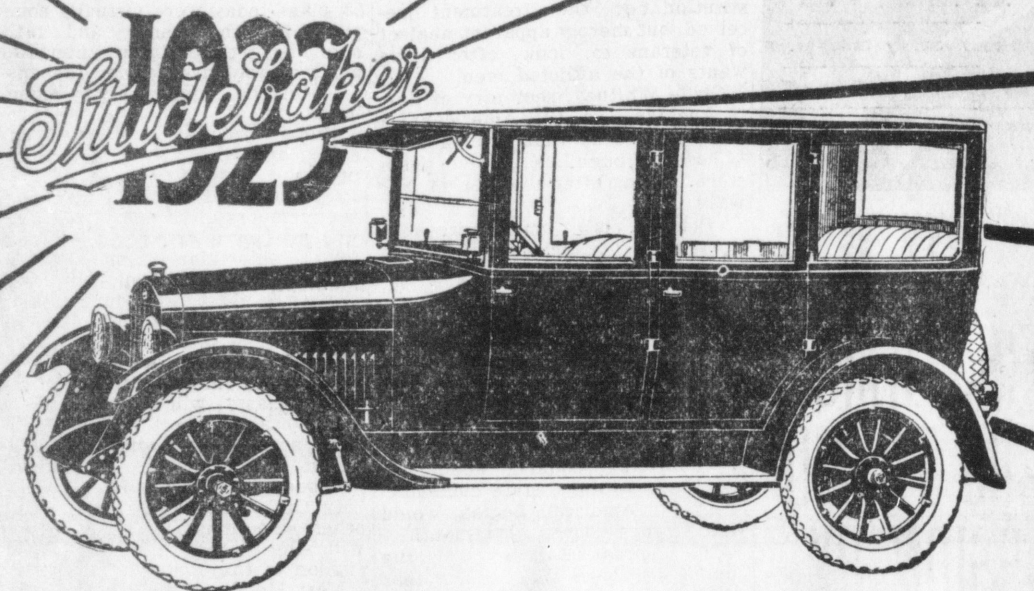

Studebaker has built quality vehicles for 71 years—and that high quality standard will never be sacrificed.

CHURCH TO BID REV. KENNEDY FAREWELL

With Friday evening, January 28, set for a farewell reception to the Rev. J. G. Kennedy and Mrs. Kennedy, and with February 4 set as the date for the formal beginning of the Rev. Mr. Kennedy's pastorate of the Occidental United Presbyterian church, Los Angeles, the time when Santa Ana will lose the well known pastor is close at hand.

The reception is to be given at the U. P. church by the congregation of the church.

The Rev. Mr. Kennedy, last September accepted a call from the new Occidental U. P. church.

Preaching in L. A.

This church was formerly the Highland Park church, Los Angeles, but has now moved to the vicinity of Occidental college.

While preparations were under way for the change, the Rev. Mr. Kennedy has continued his pastorate here, but has been preaching to the Occidental congregation Sunday afternoons for some weeks.

The Santa Ana congregation has appointed a committee consisting of S. H. Finley, chairman, Mrs. W. M. Smart, Edwin McFadden, A. N. Cox, R. R. Smith and John A. Henderson Jr. to make a recommendation for the selection of a pastor to succeed the Rev. Kennedy here.

Seek New Pastor.

This committee is now carrying on correspondence concerning a number of men, some of whom later may be considered for the call to Santa Ana.

The work of the committee has not yet gone so far as to corresponding with possible pastors, but has been with others relative to men who might be considered for the call.

WHEN YOU CATCH COLD
RUB ON MUSTEROLE

Musterole is easy to apply and it gets in its good work right away. Often it prevents a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster without the blister.

Musterole is a clean white ointment made of oil of mustard and other home simples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of all sorts. Seldom fails to deliver results. 35c and 65c, jars and tubes; hospital size, $3.00.

Make Bad Checks for Small Sums, Tip From Alleged Crook

"Never be a hog! I wrote checks for small sums. Folks were not afraid to cash these. Many days I made from $50 to $100 at that."

This bit of advice, offered by Walter A. Goodell, man of many aliases, now a prisoner in Redlands, was of more than passing interest to Orange county officers and merchants today.

Goodell, according to Redlands officers, confessed to the most amazing series of check forgeries ever recorded in that city.

He confessed, police assert, that he had "worked" a large part of the time in Orange, Riverside and Los Angeles counties. Goodell said he was "tired of the life," which he had followed since 1916, but added that he could have gone on indefinitely.

FAVOR HALTING COMMERCIAL CLUB PLANS

Abandonment of the proposed Santa Ana Commercial club was virtually signalled today when it was announced that replies received from 172 men to whom questionnaires were sent indicated the sentiment of the members of the club to be against going further with the plan.

Of those who voted on the question, "Do you think we should abandon the project without further discussion or effort and return the initiation fee deposit to subscribers?" fifty-eight voted yes and twenty-three voted no.

Recently, in an effort to ascertain the sentiment of those who some months ago paid an initiation fee, D. Eymann Huff and J. P. Baumgartner sent to members of the proposed club a statement as to the situation.

It was stated that a rental of probably $600 for the top floor of the proposed First National bank building would be asked, and that the Sunset club had leased new quarters and was unwilling to go forward with the plan that called for amalgamating the Sunset club with the proposed new commercial club.

More than 300 questionnaires were sent out with the statement. From these, 172 answers were received.

Thirty-five stated that they were willing to have the initiation fee retained and would attend a meeting to consider the matter further. Nine voted no on that proposition.

Seventeen yes and thirty no was the total to the question, "In preference to either of the foregoing suggestions, would you favor throwing your support to the Orange County Country club, and in that event would you be willing to have your initiation fee deposit retained in a fund for that purpose?"

Rev. Stevenson Speaks.

The Rev. W. S. McDougall, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Tustin, gave the opening prayer which was followed by the announcement by the Rev. Mr. Walker, that the Rev. Mr. Stevenson had been unanimously chosen by the Los Angeles presbytery to deliver the sermon for the installation service.

Taking for his text the prayer, "Create in me a clean heart and renew a right spirit within me," the Rev. Mr. Stevenson preached a forceful sermon on the power of God to create the finest and best in man as well as in nature, appealing to the people to make it possible for God to work His wonders of righteousness within the minds and hearts of all.

The formal installation was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Walker after which the Rev. Mr. Walker delivered the charge to the new pastor, speaking of the traditions of the pastorate he was to fill, and telling the Rev. Mr. Roberts, that "he couldn't wear Stevenson's coat or Stevenson's shoes but that Santa Ana would love him in Roberts' shoes and coat."

With a strong appeal to the congregation for the right spirit and serious interest in the welfare of the church and its work, the Rev. Mr. Walker delivered the charge to the church and closed the service.

Nearly a thousand persons stood for more than an hour waiting to give the new pastor a word of welcome and the reception that the Rev. Mr. Roberts held at the conclusion of the service indicated the extent to which he has already made his way into the hearts of his people.

U. P. SOON TO CITY MANAGER EXTEND LINE IS REPORT RULE PLAN IS ADVOCATED

Indication that the Union Pacific company contemplates completion of its line into Santa Ana in the near future is contained in the fact that Santa Ana is shown on a map of the company's lines, which has just come from the press and which is in circulation here today.

In connection with the fact that the new map is the first one issued showing that this city is on the Union Pacific lines and that Fullerton and Anaheim also are shown, C. S. Browne, district agent here for the company, declared that the corporation would be operating trains into Anaheim by April 1.

No Word as to Plans.

Browne said that he had no information as to the company's plans for continuing building operations into Santa Ana.

It was said that to date, rights of way between Santa Ana and Anaheim had not been secured.

At Orange, disclosures were reported to have been made indicating that the company in extending its line to Santa Ana would pass through that city to the west of the Santa Fe tracks.

The disclosures have come in connection with plans of the Central Lamon association of Villa Park to erect a new packing plant at Orange.

Railroad Gives Tip.

Rumor had it that the Union Pacific informed the association that if the new packing house were built at a certain point it would be close to the main line into Santa Ana.

Rumors did not disclose the particular site or its relative location, further than that it was a tract west of the Santa Fe tracks.

PRESBYTERIANS INSTALL NEW PASTOR

Members of the congregation of the First Presbyterian church here today were commenting on the impressive service last night at the installation of their new pastor, the Rev. William E. Roberts.

Leaders in the Los Angeles presbytery who were present to conduct the installation were the Rev. J. A. Stevenson, former pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city and now acting as executive secretary of the Inter-church Federation of Los Angeles; the Rev. Hugh K. Weaver, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Los Angeles, and the Rev. Guy Wadsworth, secretary of the Los Angeles presbytery.

The local church was crowded with members of the congregation who witnessed the impressive service.

'FLYING SQUADRON' TO DEAL BIG BLOWS AT LIQUOR TRAFFIC

Bearing the unqualified endorsement of William Jennings Bryan and Roy A. Haynes, federal prohibition commissioner, and prepared to deliver a series of sledge-hammer blows against the illicit liquor traffic, Frank S. Regan and other members of the Flying Squadron Foundation will appear at the First Christian church here January 26, 27 and 28.

Addresses will be given at 2:30 and at 7:30 p. m.

Regan, lawyer, noted tax expert and cartoonist, will open the meetings Friday, January 26, at 2:30 p. m. Regan, who illustrates all his lectures, proves conclusively that high taxes are not due to prohibition.

Described as a "whirlwind of facts and entertainment," Regan is called a lightning artist, whose rapid crayon work keeps his audience in a state of interest and delight. Regan claims and proves, it is said, that taxes need not exceed one per cent. He spent more than twenty years on Lyceum platforms.

To Tell Dry Movement.

Fred W. Corbett, Lansing, Mich., will emphasize the historical side of the prohibition movement. These two speakers will be heard afternoon and evening of the first day.

Saturday afternoon and evening, James H. Woertendyke, attorney and orator, will conduct the law enforcement conference, while Oliver W. Stewart, president of the foundation, is scheduled to appear Sunday afternoon and evening, January 28. The Sunday afternoon session will be conducted as a mass meeting.

The Rev. Norma C. Brown, who has the distinction of being the only woman who ever served as chaplain of the Illinois state senate, will also deliver two addresses. The meetings are being held in the interest of law enforcement, civic righteousness and social and industrial justice.

CHURCH RAISES
$1000 TO AID
MISSIONARY

The congregation of the First Methodist church here was elated today when the Rev. Will A. Betts, pastor, announced that a free will offering taken at his suggestion in his church last Sunday morning resulted in the raising of $1,000 which will be applied toward the maintenance of Miss Doris I. Wells, missionary at Calcutta, India.

Miss Wells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burrett Wells, 602 East Pine street, sailed from San Francisco August 10, last, for India as a missionary representing the Woman's foreign Missionary society of the First Methodist church.

Her present address is 150 Eharantala street, Calcutta.

MECHANIC ARTS HEAD OF LOCAL SCHOOL TO ENTER BUSINESS HERE

After three years and a half of successful constructive work as head of the Mechanic Arts department of the Santa Ana high school, Herbert Allemen is leaving his school work to enter business in this city, it became known today.

"I like teaching but I also like the business field," he said. "There is an unlimited future in the business world today."

Allemen is to work with the Rice-Greison company here and will sell securities.

He said that his aim in the high school had been to make the mechanic arts department as much like a complete factory as possible. During his administration the enrollment in mechanic arts courses increased from 89 to 400 and the machine shops equipment has been tripled, and auto shop capacity increased 600 percent.

The mechanic department now employs five teachers.

COUNTY LEGIONNAIRES TO PROBE ASSERTED FAILURE TO HELP WAR SUFFERERS

Members of the American Legion of Orange county today were making plans to investigate the conditions of veterans in Southern California, following reports made at a meeting of the Orange County Council at Orange last night, indicating that many suffering veterans were not receiving proper attention.

Orange county veterans were declared to have complained that when they went to the headquarters of the rehabilitation board in Los Angeles for physical examination or medical treatment, they frequently were told—after waiting all day—that they could not receive the needed attention and to come back the following day.

Such men respond always to a date set for their appearance by the physicians in charge, according to Maurice Enderle, former commander of the council.

Time Loss Claimed.

It was pointed out that this caused unnecessary loss of time and expense to those who seek relief from the physicians. It was said that if a post commander went to the office with a member of his post and stated who he was, immediate attention was given.

Reports were made that veterans in the state institution at Norwalk were not receiving the attention from Legionnaires that they should receive. Arrangements for an investigation were accordingly made last night. The complaint did not involve the management of the institution nor the treatment received, but merely apparent neglect of veterans to look after little wants of the afflicted men.

Clyde Whitney, secretary of Santa Ana Post No. 131, American Legion, said today that Orange county posts, through Los Angeles posts, were looking after the men at Norwalk.

Plan to Visit Camp Kearney.

Franklin ("Brick") Grouard, commander of Santa Ana post, and other members of the organization, will make an investigation of conditions at Camp Kearney to ascertain whether veterans there are in need of anything that will add to their comfort outside of what is supplied by the government.

Major E. J. Marks, commander of the county council, announced that Seth Millings, state commander of the American Legion, would visit Orange county next month.

The February meeting of the council will be held on a date that will be convenient to the state commander. It is expected also to make the meeting open to all the members of the seven posts in the county.

"What the devil does it mean?" he asked.

None answered him, all being as puzzled as he was himself.

After a little while, Beteaban, who kept his eyes on the water, plucked at his uncle's sleeve. "There they go!" he cried, and pointed. And there, indeed, went the piraguas on their way back to the ships. But now it was observed that they were empty, save for the men who rowed them. Their armed cargo had been left ashore.

Back to the ships they pulled, to return again presently with a fresh load of armed men, which similarly they conveyed to Palomas. And at last one of the Spanish officers ventured an explanation: "They are going to attack us by land—to attempt to storm the fort."

"Of course," The Admiral smiled, "I had guessed it. Whom the gods would destroy they first make mad."

But by evening the Admiral's equanimity was not quite so perfect. By then the piraguas had made a half-dozen journeys with their loads of men, and they had landed also—as Don Miguel had clearly observed through his telescope—at least a dozen guns.

His countenance no longer smiled; it was a little wrathful. "Who was the fool who told me that they number but three hundred men in all? They have put at least twice that number ashore already."

Amazed as he was, his amazement would have been deeper had he been told the truth: that there was not a single buccaneer or a single gun ashore on Palomas. The deception had been complete. Don Miguel could not guess that the men he had beheld in those piraguas were always the same; that on the journeys to the shore they sat and stood upright in full view; and that on the journeys back to the ships, they lay invisible at the bottom of the boats, which were thus made to appear empty.

In the last hours of fading daylight, the Spaniards did precisely what Captain Blood so confidently counted that they would do—precisely what they must do to meet the attack, preparations for which had been so thoroughly simulated. They set themselves to labor like the damned at those ponderous guns emplaced to command the narrow passage out to sea.

Thus, when night fell they stood to their guns. And whilst they waited thus, under cover of the darkness and as the tide began to ebb, Captain Blood's fleet weighed anchor quietly; and, as once before, with no more canvas spread than that which their spirits could carry, so as to give them steering way and these having been painted black—the four vessels, without a light showing, groped their way by soundings to the channel which led to that narrow passage out to sea.

The Elizabeth and the Infanta, leading side by side, were abreast of the fort before their shadowy bulks and the soft gurgle of water at their prows were detected by the Spaniards, whose attention until that moment had been all on the other side. The Elizabeth emptied her larboard guns into the fort as she was swept past on the swift ebb.

Some slight damage was sustained by Blood's fleet. But by the time the Spaniards had resolved their confusion into some order of dangerous offense, that fleet was through the narrows and standing out to sea.

Thus was Don Miguel de Esplonza left to chew the bitter cud of a lost opportunity.

Off the coast of Oruba, at the mouth of the Gulf of Venezuela, Captain Blood's fleet came upon the belated Santo Nino, speeding under full sail to reinforce Don Miguel at Maracaybo.

At first the Spaniard had conceived that she was meeting the victorious fleet of Don Miguel, returning from the destruction of the pirates. When at comparatively close quarters the pennon of St. George soared to the Arabella's masthead to disillusion her, the Santo Nino chose the better part of valor, and struck her flag.

Captain Blood ordered her crew to take to the boats, and land themselves at Oruba or wherever else they pleased.

Dismissing the Captain, who went over the side of the Santo Nino, Captain Blood proceeded to investigate the value of this further prize. When her hatches were removed, a human cargo was disclosed in her hold.

"Slaves," said Wolverstone, and persisted in that belief, cursing Spanish devilry until Cahusac crawled up out of the dark bowels of the ship, and stood blinking in the sunlight.

And those that crawled out after him—the remnants of his crew—cursed him horribly for the pusillanimity which had brought them into the ignominy of owing their deliverance to those whom they had deserted as lost beyond hope. Their sloop had encountered and had been sunk three days ago by the Santo Nino.

CHAPTER XVII
The Milagrosa
The affair at Maracaybo is to be considered as Captain Blood's buccaneering masterpiece.

The fame which he had enjoyed before this, great as it already was, is dwarfed into insignificance by the fame that followed.

In Tortuga, during the months he spent there refitting the three ships he had captured from the fleet that had gone out to destroy him, he found himself almost an object of worship in the eyes of the wild brethren of the Coast. When next he sailed away it was with a fleet of five fine ships in which went something over a thousand men. The three captured Spanish vessels he had renamed with a certain scholarly humor the Clotho, Lachesis, and Atropos.

In Europe the news of this fleet, following upon the news of the Spanish Admiral's defeat at Maracaybo, produced something of a sensation.

On the 15th of September of the year 1688—a memorable year in the annals of England—three ships were afloat upon the Caribbean, which in their coming conjunction were to work out the fortunes of several persons.

The first of these was Captain Blood's flagship the Arabella, which had been separated from the buccaneer fleet in a hurricane of the Lesser Antilles.

The second ship was the great Spanish galleon, the Milagrosa, which accompanied by the smaller frigate Hidalgo, lurked off the Caymies. Aboard the Milagrosa sailed the vindictive Don Miguel.

The third and last of these ships with which we are at present concerned was an English man-of-war, which was at anchor in the French port of St. Nicholas. She was on her way from Plymouth to Jamaica, and carried on board a very distinguished passenger in the person of Lord Julian Wade, who came charged with a mission of some consequence and delicacy.

My Lord Sunderland, the Secretary of State, had appointed a strong man to the deputy-governorship of Jamaica. This strong man was that Colonel Blimp who for some years now had been the most influential planter in Barbados.

The Royal Mary—the vessel bearing that ingenious, tolerably accomplished, mildly dissolute, entirely elegant envoy made a good passage to St. Nicholas, her last port of call before Jamaica. It was understood that as a preliminary Lord Julian should report himself to the Deputy-Governor at Port Royal, whence at need he might have himself conveyed to Tortuga. Now it happened that the Deputy-Governor's niece had come to St. Nicholas some months earlier on a visit to some relatives, and so that she might escape the insufferable heat of Jamaica in that season. The time for her return being now at hand, a passage was sought for her aboard the Royal Mary, and in view of her uncle's rank and position promptly accorded.

Lord Julian hailed her advent with satisfaction.

Miss Bishop was a young woman and a lady. On his side, with his title and position he bore about him the atmosphere of the great world that was little more than a name to her. It is not therefore wonderful that they should have been attracted to each other before the Royal Mary was warped out of St. Nicholas.

"I wonder now," he said, as they were sauntering on the poop, "if you ever saw this fellow Blood, who was at one time on your uncle's plantations as a slave."

"I saw him often. I knew him very well."

"And what manner of man did you find him?"

"In those days I esteemed him for an unfortunate gentleman."

"You were acquainted with his story?"

"He told it me. That is why I esteemed him—for the calm fortitude with which he bore adversity."

His lordship laughed a little. "He has grown rich, I hear. His future father-in-law, M. d'Ogeron, has seen to that."

"His future father-in-law?" said she, and stared at him round-eyed, with parted lips. Then added: M. d'Ogeron? The Governor of Tortuga?"

"The same. You see this fellow's well protected. And as for the girl, I'm told she's a wild piece, fit mate for such a man as Blood. He killed a man to win her."

"He killed a man for her, do you say?" There was horror now in her voice.

"Yes—a French buccaneer named Levasseur. He was the girl's lover and Blood's associate on a venture. Blood coveted the girl, and killed Levasseur to win her."

"Who told you?"

"A man who sailed with them, a Frenchman named Cahusac, whom I found in a waterside tavern in St. Nicholas."

She smiled a little crooked smile. "Such a man is best forgotten."

THRIFT ESSAY PRIZES WILL BE AWARDED

William G. Farrell of Los Angeles, manager of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance company, will be the speaker at the dinner at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening at St. Ann's Inn, at which cash prizes will be given to the winners in the essay contest conducted among school children by the Life Underwriters' association of Orange county as a feature of thrift week.

At the same time that this announcement was made here today, it was stated that R. P. Mitchell, county school superintendent, would present the prizes to the successful contestants. The prizes are provided by the Underwriters' association.

Names of the nine winners will be published tomorrow, it was said. Children of the county schools were formed into three groups, with three prizes for each group. The cash divisions are $15, $10 and $5.

In the schedule of days of thrift week, tomorrow is life insurance day, and life insurance was the subject of the essays.

Today was budget day. Its purpose was to interest families, mercantile firms and individuals in adopting the budget system and adopting the budget system in their business and private life.

600 FOLK MAY HEAR ADDRESS BY GOODCELL

Are there 606 persons in this city sufficiently interested in informing themselves on the income tax law to attend the meeting to be held at the junior high school here at 7:30 o'clock tonight and hear Rex Goodcell, internal revenue collector, discuss that law?

If there are, each will find a seat in the assembly hall of the school, for that it the seating capacity, it was stated today.

Goodcell is making a flying trip through Southern California sections giving public addresses for the purpose of explaining provisions of the income tax law and make it possible for individuals to get the information necessary for them to prepare their own returns.

He addressed the Rotary club at Orange today at noon. Tomorrow evening he will speak at the Elks' hall, Anaheim, where it is expected he will be greeted by many residents of the north Orange county section.

The meeting here tonight will be held under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce. An official of that organization will preside.

CLUBS SHAPING SCOUTS FUND DRIVE PLANS

Determined that the Boy Scout movement, which has made exceptional progress in Orange county during the past year, shall be given every opportunity to expand in 1923, aggressive teams, headed by Rotarians, Kiwanians, Lions and others, will throw themselves into a financial campaign, beginning next Wednesday, for the maintenance of scout work in this county.

"This drive," said Roland Dye, Scout executive, "will follow the big banquet at St. Ann's Inn next Tuesday night, at which noted speakers will address the county council."

The campaign will continue for three days, but it is earnestly hoped that the work, which has been organized under the direction of the county executive board, will be finished by Thursday noon.

Name S. A. Leaders
"Three divisions will head the drive in the Santa Ana district. These are the Rotary division, under leadership of G. J. Daley; Kiwanis division, under M. B. Wellington; and the Lion division, headed by Dr. Elliott H. Rowland. Each of the three divisions will have ten captains, who, in turn, will have three lieutenants, making a total of 120 workers in Santa Ana proper."

In addition, Dye said, Tustin, Garden Grove, Laguna Beach, Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton, La Habra and other points will be actively represented in the county-wide drive.

Beaches Defer Drive
Newport Beach, Seal Beach and Huntington Beach will not put on campaigns until later, he declared, but their quotas have been guaranteed by troop committees in the respective districts.

Guy J. Gilbert is chairman of the finance committee for the Santa Ana district.

Fullerton district will have three divisions, while Anaheim will be represented by two divisions. Laguna Beach will raise its quota under the direction of E. E. Jahrman.

Keen rivalry exists between the various teams, Dye said, and efforts will be made to establish a record in the conduct of the drive. Last year the Kiwanis division secured the largest amount in subscriptions.

"The Flying Squadron made a great contribution to the cause of prohibition, and I have no doubt that the present tour will produce results as satisfactory," says William Jennings Bryan, in endorsing the movement. "Success to the squadron!"

"I am confident," says Roy A. Haynes, federal prohibition commissioner, "that there will be no more helpful supplemental agency holding up our hands in the big task before us than the Flying Squadron."

"The speakers of national prominence who compose the Flying Squadron are touring the United States hoping to create sentiment in maintaining and backing up the Volstead law," declared R. S. Middleton, advance representative here. "Santa Ana will be the 44th city to be visited by these speakers since the campaign began in the summer of 1921."

SPECIAL APRON SUPPLY SOLD IN 1 HOUR

The Rankin Dry Goods company today asked The Register to announce its regret that its preparations for the sale of "Happy Home" Apron Dresses at 88 cents were not great enough to meet the extraordinary demand.

One hour and five minutes after the store opened this morning the aprons had all been sold, 1200 in all. Announcement had been made in The Register yesterday in a five-column advertisement. The response was far greater than was expected, and Rankin's is sincerely concerned at the disappointment which hundreds of women must feel.

The management of the store stated that more of these apron dresses would be obtained as soon as possible and the offering repeated in the near future.

"What to drink is quite as important as 'What to eat'"

Science has taught us much about what to eat for efficiency.

Now we realize that what we drink is equally important.

The five scientists who developed Ko-Fan, the wonderful new drink from the Tropics and Far East, kept this in mind.

They created a beverage which not only tastes superbly good, but has a distinctly beneficial effect on mental activity.

It nourishes the brain as meat nourishes the body. It buoys you up for harder mental work.

Says the Therapeutic Gazette of one of the ingredients of Ko-Fan:

"In psychological tests which involve purely intellectual processes, there is a distinct increase in rapidity and accuracy. Not only is the mental activity temporarily stimulated, but the capability for prolonged work is also increased."

Whenever you are tired, sleepy, confused in mind, drink Ko-Fan. It brings the refreshment and composure you need. And the flavor? Well, "You'll like it!"

L. A. BANKS ENTER BUSINESS IN SOUTH

En Centro Institution Joins With First National, Southwest Group

EL CENTRO, Jan. 18.—The First National Bank of Los Angeles and the Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings Bank, with resources of more than $218,000,000, have entered the Imperial Valley.

Through an agreement entered into between the stockholders of the Security Commercial and Savings Bank of El Centro, on the one hand and the First National Bank of Los Angeles, the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings Bank, and the First Securities company on the other, an affiliation has been consummated by which the stockholders of the Security Commercial and Savings Bank become co-partners in the First National Pacific Southwest group.

The physical merger of these institutions will be effective probably in February. This does not mean the loss of identity of the Security Commercial and Savings Bank, it is said.

The transaction does not entail an outright purchase of stock but the stockholders of the Security Bank, through an exchange of shares with the Pacific Southwest banks, become co-partners in the business of the First National Pacific Southwest group, the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings Bank and the First Securities company.

The present officers, directors and employees will remain in charge of the El Centro business, according to those who made the deal.

It was through a similar deal that the California National bank of Santa Ana became associated with the Pacific Southwest group last week.

WALL ST. JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW

Stocks Gather Impressive Momentum Despite Drop In Sterling

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Price movements in today's stock market session conclusively vindicated the belief that recent irregularities were due to technical defects in the market's internal position rather than to disturbing events abroad.

Sterling dropped to a level that was a decline of five cents from its recent high.

Yet stocks rallied from the start of the day and by 2 p. m. the recovery among the industrial leaders gathered impressive momentum.

The market closed higher. Closing prices included:

U. S. Steel 106 3-8, up 7-8; Republic Iron 50 3-8, up 1 7-8; Bethlehem B. 34 1-4, up 1 3-8; Baldwin 124, up 2 1-2; American Locomotive 123 1-2, up 1 1-2; Pan American B. 80 7-8, up 1 1-2; Texas company 48 5-8, up 7-8; Cosden 55 7-8, up 1 1-4; Studebaker 115 7-8, up 2; U. ## STATE GETS $30,000 DAILY FOR LICENSES

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 18.—Between $30,000 and $40,000 is being received daily by the state in corporation license tax collections, which will total approximately $1,000,000, it is announced by Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan.

Taxes become delinquent February 5, when a $10 penalty will be added, according to Jordan. Final payments must be made by March 1.

START DRILLING ON FIVE NEW WELLS IN COUNTY OIL FIELDS

Drilling operations were started on five prospective oil wells in Orange county during the week ending January 13, according to the weekly bulletin of the California mining bureau, department of petroleum and gas.

Four of the new holes are in the Huntington Beach field while the fifth is at Richfield.

The Union and the Standard companies started the new wells at Huntington Beach. The new Union holes are on the Brooks and Hill Community leases, while those of the Standard are on the Huntington B. lease. At Richfield, the Union started another well on the Chapman lease.

The bulletin also announces the Globe Petroleum corporation is making a test for water shut-off in its well in Sec. 34, twp. 5, range 11, Huntington Beach field.

Operations looking to the deepening of the Merchants' Petroleum company well at Richfield were also started last week.

RAILROAD DEBT FOR PRESENT YEAR LOW

Railroad bonds and notes maturing in 1923 aggregate only $196,952,230, as compared with $239,992,960 in 1922, $456,644,820 in 1921 and $279,151,380 in 1920. The unusually large total in 1921 was due to the payment of $219,000,000 Great Northern-Pacific (Chicago, Burlington & Quincy R. R.) joint 4 percent bonds, the largest maturity on record up to this time.

The largest amount of obligations maturing in any month of 1923 is $49,751,430 in January. Equipment trust obligations sold to the government and resold by the United States Railroad administration constitute $22,961,250 of this total.

The largest single maturity in January, and one of the largest for the entire year, is $5,055,000 El Paso & Southwestern 5 percent bonds, which fell due January 1.

Railroad maturities throughout the year are unusually small, the largest being $7,742,000 St. Paul & Northern Pacific first 6s, due February 1st.

PREDICTS INCREASE IN OIL QUOTATIONS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Harry F. Sinclair, who negotiated the Teapot Dome lease with Secretary Fall, testified before the senate oil investigating committee yesterday that there is not sufficient oil above ground at this time to adequately provide for the business of the world, and that he foresees higher oil and gasoline prices within the near future.

Attorney Roe asked the witness if it was not a fact that there is more oil above ground now than at any time before. Sinclair replied that there is less on hand now than a few weeks ago.

"THIRTY YEARS IN DENTAL EXPERIENCE"

Experience versus experiment is the Atwell slogan. Experience makes us certain; contact with almost every problem in dentistry, enables us to speak with authority.

Thirty years old in meeting and mastering dental problems—in learning what to do and what not to do; in profiting from my own successes and activities.

Thirty years young in energy; in freshened viewpoint; in studied plans and methods changed.

You will benefit through my long dental experience, my superability to serve.

ALFALFA SEED

No crop grown in California has shown the steady, consistent profit each year for the past five years as has alfalfa. The demand for alfalfa hay, through the use of dairy products, will continue to increase with the growth of our population. Alfalfa in Orange County is one of the safest investments in agriculture.

It shows a fine return per acre; and, in the meantime, builds up the soil—always a double profit. We handle only the best quality of reclaimed alfalfa seed, at a price but slightly higher than ordinary field run quality.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, Jan. 18.—A full house greeted the Evangelist, Harry O. Anderson, and his singer, E. Raymond Couch, at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening. Charles E. Fuller, county Christian Endeavor president, and wife were also present. Rousing singing by the audience, a whistling solo, and a negro revival song, "When the World's on Fire Don't You Want God's Bosom to be Your Pillow?" by Mr. Couch, who played his own accompaniment on the ukelele, preceded the sermon. Many young people were present not only from this place but from Alamitos, Friends church and from Wintersburg, the Epworth League of that place attending in a body. All were enthusiastic in their appreciation of the meeting. The young people plan to attend the meeting at the Christian church, Huntington Beach, Friday evening and also the county rally, at the Christian church, Santa Ana, next Sunday at 3 p. m. This will be the final meeting of the series. Mr. Couch will sing, whistle, play the ukelele, the Immanuel Quartette of Los Angeles will sing. Mr. Anderson will speak.

Beside Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Fuller others from Placentia were present at the meeting here Sunday evening.

Dudley and Scobee Smith, of Burbank attended the Presbyterian church here Sunday and also the C. E. Rally at Orange in the afternoon, returning home after the Anderson meeting in the evening.

Others from here who attended the Orange meeting were Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Grandy and son Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. John Swanson, Miss Rosalie Carter, Miss Fern Byram, Glenn Byram, Ralph Muck, Herman Johnson, Mrs. Byram.

Mrs. F. J. Grandy and son Douglas attended the opera, "The Bohemian Girl," at the high school auditorium, Santa Ana, Tuesday night.

Rev. F. D. Seward will occupy the pulpit of the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning, Jan. 21 at 11 a. m. in the absence of W. T. Wardle who is absent at Seattle on a business trip.

Mrs. J. H. Walton, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Francis Penhall and little son Marvin visited her sister, Mrs. Edith Johnson in Los Angeles Sunday. The latter is in danger of losing her eyesight from cataracts, the doctor giving but little hope from an operation.

William Sloan and son Frank Sloan made a trip to Arlington Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Edwards came Monday from Elsinore for a few days, expecting to return Thursday.

The dredger which is cleaning out the drainage ditch has reached the boulevard a half mile out of town.

J. Stoves and brother-in-law, Eber Collins of Monrovia, accompanied a friend from Orange to the Imperial valley Friday on a duck hunting trip, returning Monday.

W. W. Fox has sold his ranch at Orland and with his family will make his home in Orange county.

Mr. Fox is a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. John Fogal and has been with the family visiting relatives here recently, but with Mrs. Fox went north to attend to the sale of their place, leaving their two boys here with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Fogal, to attend school. They will return this week.

ORGANIZATION DATE FOR NAVAL RESERVE IS SET AT NEWPORT

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 18.—The date for the organization meeting of a naval reserve unit of the Newport Harbor Yacht club has been set for Jan. 27 at 8 o'clock, it was announced here today. At that time Commander A. H. Woodbine, U. S. N. R. F., with two naval instructors, will meet with the yachtsmen and take preliminary steps for the formation of the unit.

Many members of the club have been and others still are, at the present time, affiliated with the naval reserve, it was pointed out. However, interest in that branch of the navy has not been as strong lately as before the war and it has only been recently that the branch has again come in for serious attention, a former commissioned officer in the reserve declared.

The Newport Yacht club will be the first club of the Pacific coast to take up the work and it is expected that if the proper interest is shown the navy will station several yachts, sailing vessels or small craft at the harbor for the benefit and instruction of the members.

SEAL BEACH CLUB TO PRESENT FARCE

SEAL BEACH, Jan. 18.—"Exit Dora, Enter Dad," is the title of a one-act farce to be staged by the Parent-Teachers' association on the evening of Tuesday, January 23, at the Jewel theater. Other numbers will be a violin solo by Prof. Rumer, several clever vaudeville numbers and a male quartet from Long Beach. This is the second entertainment to be given by the Parent-Teachers' association by which money is raised to pay for its new moving picture machine. The reels sent out by the university are both interesting and instructive.

ENTERTAINMENT TO BE GIVEN TOMORROW

GARDEN GROVE, Jan. 18.—Friday evening, the Woman's Civic club will give at the Y. M. C. A. building one of their popular and interesting entertainments.

The program of the evening is under the auspices of the economic section. Mrs. Elmore, the chairman of the section, has arranged a very good program.

COUPLE GLAD TO GET BACK TO SOUTHLAND; FIND RAIN IN NORTH

WESTMINSTER, Jan. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Larter, who spent nearly three weeks, over the holidays, on a visit to their daughters' families in the Stockton region, returned last week, glad to be back in the sunshine.

They stated that during their stay the sun shone only a few hours of two days, it being rainy or foggy all the time. The weather here during their absence was only showery a little one day. Their daughters, Mrs. O. C. Hare and Mrs. Will McClintock, live only eight miles apart in good weather, but it is a trip of sixty-two miles in rainy weather, so they did not go back and forth much.

QUIET WEDDING AT HUNTINGTON BEACH

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 18.—A quiet wedding took place at the rectory of St. Mary's church yesterday at 10 a. m. when Miss Della Giesler and Jack Harpster were united in marriage. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Giesler, who have lived on a ranch here for many years and are well known. Mr. Harpster is employed in the oil fields of Long Beach. The couple left on a honeymoon trip to San Francisco. They will live in Long Beach.

ROAD PLOWED UP WESTMINSTER, Jan. 18.—The road in front of the Presbyterian church has been plowed and will be put in shape to be oiled. The improvement is to extend around the block west and past the Methodist church. This road has been quite rough for some time.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They do not injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.—Adv.

STANDARD IS PUTTING IN NEW OIL PIPE LINE

WESTMINSTER, Jan. 18.—The Standard Oil company has set up a camp southwest of town Monday and Tuesday consisting of ten or twelve tents, for a crew of men who are putting in a pipe line to connect Huntington Beach with North. The line parallels one put in some time ago, the increased output of oil at Huntington Beach making necessary the new pipe line.

MEEKER CHOSEN SOLOIST BY ORCHESTRA

FULLERTON, Jan. 18.—Z. Earl Meeker, baritone, will be the soloist at the Orange county symphony orchestra's second concert to be given in the auditorium of Fullerton union high school Friday night at 8 p. m., according to an announcement today when the program was made public. Esther Frike Green will accompany Mr. Meeker, who will sing five songs during the evening. Mr. Meeker has included among his numbers Verdi's "Othello," Handel's "Where E'er You Walk," and "Tally-ho," by Leonie.

Program Is Given.
The program numbers are as follows:

I. "Atlantis" (The Lost Continent) Suite in four parts.
(a) "Minuet" (Beethoven); (b) Intermezzo from "Cavalleria Rusticana" (Mascagni); (c) "Le Sec Rot" (Gautier).

Credo—"Othello" (Verdi)
Z. Earl Meeker.
IV. "A Day in Venice" (Suite Romantic) (Nevin)
(a) "Dawn;" (b) "Gondoliers;" (c) "Venetian Love Song;" (d) "Good Night."

Mrs. Ira DeVaul of Ahamba visited from Sunday until Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. DeVaul here.

Mrs. Menta Maas went to Los Angeles Saturday and remained over Sunday to attend the meetings held at the McPherson Tabernacle at Echo Park.

SANITARY DISTRICT IS AIM OF MASS MEETING SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Jan. 18.—Another effort to form a sanitary district at San Juan Capistrano is to be made Friday evening, and those back of the movement hope that it will meet with a kindlier fate than did the last.

A mass meeting has been called for the high school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock which will be attended by prominent health officials of the state and county.

Among the speakers will be Dr. F. C. Webb, state sanitary inspector, and Dr. L. W. Goudy, state sanitary engineer.

Dr. Leland Mitchell, county health officer, will also speak.

The last effort to form a sanitary district progressed even so far that officers were elected, but since that time it is said that the organization is not satisfactory, and that the formation must again be gone through to insure the active functioning of the commission for the proposed district.

Following the meeting the stockholders and their wives gathered at the Garden Grove hotel for a five course chicken dinner. Entertainment was furnished by Miss Norma Larson on the saxophone and in readings, the dinner closing with songs.

Directors Added.
At the stockholders' meeting two new members were added to the board of directors, increasing its number to seven. The new directors are C. S. Holt, and J. W. Alson, who has recently moved to Garden Grove and become identified with the bank.

The old board, composed of C. B. Crosby, H. A. Lake, P. N. Larson, F. H. Felberg and Fred Andres was re-elected.

The report read showed that the bank had grown faster even than the original estimate given the banking department and the sentiment of the meeting favored an increase of the capital to $50,000 in the near future.

Following the dinner the new directors held their first meeting.

Cashier Resigns.
The resignation of R. E. Geren was read and accepted and a vote of appreciation given him for his services as cashier. Regret was expressed that his health necessitated a change. N. V. Alson was elected to fill the place as cashier.

Other officers were re-elected for the coming year with P. A. Felberg, president, Fred Andres, vice president; H. A. Lake secretary; N. V. Alson, treasurer. Several out-of-town stockholders were present, including K. B. Norswing and Mr. Halverson.

The Lions voted to go to Hollywood Feb. 6, having received an invitation to a charter night celebration from 100 cubs who wish to become Lions. They will go about 80 strong, each Lion taking his Lioness to enjoy the occasion. This will be no doubt one of the greatest charter night celebrations held in California and 800 guests are expected to sit down to a banquet fit for the kings.

Stunts and hilarity will take up the first two hours of the evening and then dancing will be the order. The Lions will probably go over on four C. J. C. busses, leaving here at 5 o'clock.

LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, Jan. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Allen Box Jr., of Mill Valley, are spending the week in Laguna Beach, visiting friends and relatives. Before returning home they intend motoring to Palm Springs and to Mexico.

Rev. A. H. Burkholder, Joseph Thurston, Dr. Bolles and Dr. Smith will go to Santa Ana Thursday to attend the Brotherhood banquet.

Don Hannaford of Eagle Rock, spent the week end with H. Van B. Altman.

Mrs. Ida Randall Bolles and Miss Jessie Washburn, who have been painting at San Juan and San Juan Capistrano Springs, returned Sunday.

Mrs. M. A. Oviatt, of Santa Monica, is house-guest of Mrs. Alfred Henry Lewis this week.

Dr. and Mrs. Fuller, who moved to Lomeda Monday, will ultimately make Palms Verdes their permanent home.

Mrs. A. E. Hart of Hollywood, and brother, R. O. Oviatt and wife, of Denver, have been occupying Mrs. Hart's Laguna Beach cottage for the past few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Oviatt, who motored across the desert, expect to return to Denver in April.

FATHER ILL IN SEATTLE.
GARDEN GROVE, Jan. 18.—Dr. P. M. Magnusson received a message Sunday, telling of the serious illness of his father at Seattle, Wash. He is over 80 years of age and his recovery is doubtful. Mr. Magnusson has visited in Garden Grove.

ENTERTAINS GUESTS SUNDAY.
GARDEN GROVE, Jan. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Oertly entertained the following guests at dinner Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Lehnardt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith and Edward Arrowsmith, and daughter, Miss Margaret. Messrs. Oertly, Lehnardt, Smith and Arrowsmith are deacons in the Baptist church here.

JOURNALISM CLASSES TO HEAR COUNTY MEN DISCUSS NEWSPAPERS

Two Orange county editors, James B. Gibson, editor of the Anaheim Herald, and Justus Craemer, business manager of the Orange News, both daily papers, will be among the speakers from the different sections of the Southland who will address the students of the University of Southern California school of journalism, January 18, in Los Angeles.

On that day the school will hold its first annual newspaper day on the campus.

Other speakers will include Crombie Allen of the Ontario Report; J. J. Penny of the Long Beach Telegram; L. O. Hammond of the Redlands Facts.

It is said that there are several Orange county students among the classes to be addressed by the editors. Those students will have the opportunity of hearing from county newspaper publications they are acquainted with reasons for certain policies of Orange county newspapers.

INDUSTRIALS COMMITTEE PLANNED HERE

City Clubs Propose Central Organization to Attract Manufacturers

FOR HOME INDUSTRY

Many Worthy Projects Ask
Santa Ana Co-operation
Speakers Declare

Organization of a general industrial committee, with representatives from various clubs of the city as members, was under consideration here today, following a conference of the industrial committee of the Santa Ana Realty board, at which was discussed location in this city of a manufacturing enterprise.

Members of the committee pointed out that securing of industrial is essential to the continued growth in population and expansion of residence districts.

Of Interest To All
The belief was expressed that the situation is one demanding attention from all interests of the city and that a committee representing the active clubs and organizations could best serve the community in this cause.

Many worthy projects, it was declared, await co-operative action on the part of citizens of the community. It was felt that with the proper encouragement these projects could be made actualities.

"It is a sad fact, but true, nevertheless,"

Newcomer Strikes Oil And Buys Home As Family On Way Here

Making a "strike" in oil operations at Signal hill, Long Beach, C. A. Fleming today was making preparations to bring his family here from the east, following the purchase this week of the home of Frank Harris, 1609 North Main street.

Fleming, it was understood, has been living in this city only a short time, making investments at Signal hill that brought him big returns.

Harris, who is a member of the real estate firm of Harris Brothers, accepted as part payment a residence at 824 East Sixth street.

The real estate broker will not occupy the latter, having taken a lease on the Munger residence property at 1641 West Fourth street.

Harris and family will move to the new address on Saturday.

CHANTICLEER MANOR FOLK ASK BOARD TO WIDEN MAIN STREET

The property owners of Chanticleer Manor presented a petition to the board of county supervisors Tuesday which calls for the widening with paving of the east side of Main street along the full frontage of Chanticleer Manor on that thoroughfare.

A second petition was also presented requesting the organization of a lighting district to provide street lights in the same property.

As soon as these petitions are favorably passed upon, the work will be rushed ahead, according to Andrew Cock, who heads the Chanticleer Manor Realty company. The sales for the past week, reported by Sales Manager A. W. Stradling, include five lots and one house. The buyers were J. R. Dabney of the Dabney Oil company, Huntington Beach; Inez M. Scratensburg, two lots; N. L. Lentch, proprietor of the Lyric theater, the house at 2017 South Main street, and W. R. Keer, a Main street lot. The lot buyers will start building at once.

HOLDING HOME TOWN TRADE EXPLAINED

Realtor Gives Pointers On Subject to Santa Ana Merchants

By FREEMAN H. BLOODGOOD
(Retiring President Santa Ana Realty Board.)

"How can we hold trade in our home town?"

How often this question is asked in Santa Ana?

And how varied are the answers!

Good quality, good variety and fair prices for merchandise, tell the story in a nutshell. In my opinion, all these features are contained in the mercantile life of Santa Ana, and for that reason there should be no necessity for anyone in the city to go elsewhere to trade.

The overhead of local stores is less than in the larger city, the metropolis of Southern California, and our merchants are therefore in position to enter into price competitions with the big stores of the big city.

Polite Clerks On Job

Polite, affable, efficient salesmen are other essentials in inducing home buying. Clerks need to know where things are, the price, everything pertaining to the business in which they are directly engaged, and they must know these things to render quick and efficient service to patrons.

Santa Ana clerks are posted and their knowledge of stocks makes it possible to give quick service. That is another inducement to home-buying. Many conditions obtain in Santa Ana that should induce home-trading.

However, as in every place, there is always room for improvement—and that is what makes life interesting. It is the chance to "grow better day by day in every way."

Stores Excite Interest

Take store fronts for instance: they play a very important part in creating and attracting interest to the local store. If all of our stores have good-looking fronts and good places to display merchandise residents will delight in talking about "what we have in Santa Ana stores."

And then there is the matter of service—service in installations, such as electric, gas, plumbing, carpets, linoleums, shades and repairs of all kinds.

No merchant can afford to put any but his most skilled clerks and workmen on the job of meeting the housewife in her own home. Work at the house must be neat and it must be done with due care not to muss up the house. It takes skill to leave the housewife in good humor. It requires diplomacy to meet all situations efficiently.

"Our Home Town"

In short, satisfied customers make for home-town patronage. Many things enter into this. Above all other requirements, there must be a good feeling toward "our home town." Everyone should be helpful in suggestions, constructive in criticism.

Boost—do not knock. Enter without knocking and leave the same way—but come again. Keep the money at home. No other town boosts for your town. If you were in business, taking chances, you would want home trade. Here is where the golden rule comes in.

"We like Santa Ana so much." This is heard on every hand, especially from new arrivals. Why do they say it? It is because the general impression is pleasing and favorable. Our city is compact, yet cramped nowhere.

Has Ideal Location

It is easily accessible from all points, and within easy reach of beauty, prosperous productivity and charming recreation of infinite variety.

Good feeling is the basis of good health and the universal appearance of prosperity. People who feel good, have no grouches, hunt for none, and generally speaking, are not hard to suit in the matter of purchase from the merchants.

Those Santa Ana residents who think they have to go to Los Angeles to make purchases in order to get a greater variety of selections, should bear in mind that every cent they spend in the Angel City lessens just that much the chance for developing in Santa Ana a store of sufficient patronage and business volume to warrant maintaining of stocks of greater variety.

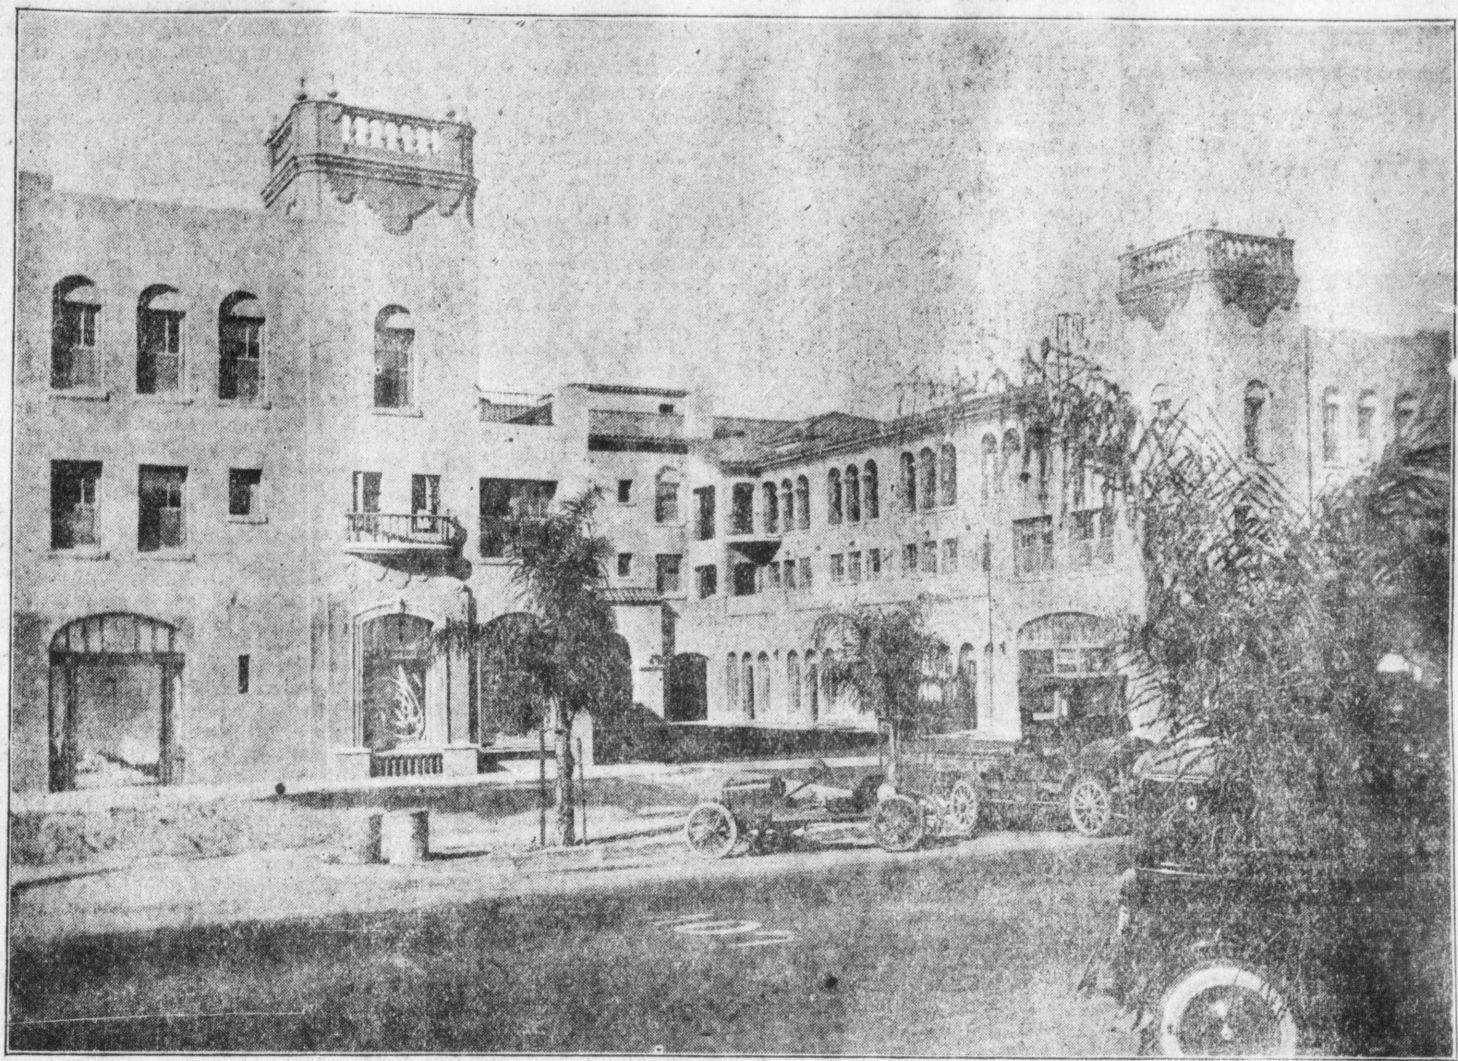

Trade at home and help develop the business enterprises developing here.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING

VISITORS INSPECT $200,000 HOTEL CALIFORNIA OPENED AT FULLERTON

The California hotel, Fullerton's new $200,000 hostelry, which was built through the co-operation and enterprise of the progressive residents of that community, and which was formally opened last Monday, when hundreds of Orange county residents inspected the building.

BUILDING BOOM HERE SEEN BY REALTOR

Santa Ana builders will spend $5,000,000 of the $400,000,000 it is estimated Californians will expend in the 1923 building program of the nation. In the opinion of J. C. Wallace, secretary of the Santa Ana Realty board, estimates place the national expenditure in the coming year at $7,000,000,000.

The California building cost is estimated by Fraser O. Reed, of San Jose, president of the California Real Estate association, who points out that one out of every $20 spent by a nation of 115,000,000 people will be spent in California.

What Hoover Said

Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, in a recent statement, declared that a house shortage induces congestion. He says that because of the scarcity of houses, thousands of families are forced into unsanitary and dangerous quarters, particularly in the larger cities.

Criticism is heard in some quarters of the custom in some sections of the country of the creation of small building lots. Regret is expressed in many cases by city planners, when, in developing real estate, the land is cut up into small lots.

They feel that it leads to building houses too closely together, and may make a crowded and unsightly neighborhood, where there is a fire hazard and lack of room for beautification.

"Yet," it is pointed out, by a building authority, "it is probably inevitable, in these days of high building costs, that dwellings should be erected much smaller than previously and that people should economize by buying smaller lots of land."

"There are many families who would do better if, instead of purchasing a small lot in the thickly settled part of a city, they would go into the outskirts where they can get a good sized lot for a low price, and where they have room for a vegetable garden and trees, shrubbery and flowers."

"If people have taste, they can buy a small lot and build on it and make the result a work of beauty. A small home constructed after good lines and nestled in shrubbery and flowers can be just as beautiful as the bigger one on ample land, and its demure modesty suggests home feeling and contentment."

"It always pays builders, also people who are putting up homes for themselves, to consult the best standards of taste. In these days when books of artistic house plans may be secured for a very little money, there is no excuse for putting up ugly dwellings."

"By making a home look attractive, a considerable percentage can be added to its selling value. The neighborhood of small houses planned by a person of refined taste, can be made into a very attractive residence section, in spite of the small size of the individual lots."

Fullerton's new hotel, The California, which was opened Monday night, has taken its place as the headline attraction in that city. The California is a Fullerton institution and the pride exhibited in it by the citizens, who formed the Community Hotel company which financed and Even though a savings campaign was staged at this time last year, it was estimated today that savings accounts have been showing a gain this year over last year of 20 per cent.

"More savings accounts have been open in this bank this month to date," declared Alex Brownridge, cashier of the Farmers and Merchants Savings bank, which virtually is the savings department of the First National bank, "than during the same number of days in January of any previous year. The gain is approximately 20 per cent."

What is Service?

SERVICE is the Yardstick of Value, it is a word symbol of expansive field and deep meaning.

A bright smile, a cordial greeting is not an explanation of service, although it helps. Prompt delivery and courteous treatment only partially explain service—although they are often mistaken for an explanation of the word.

Service is only completely explained when the Value of the article or action rendered is destroyed, hence it is the yardstick of value.

You build a house, the Service that your Contractor and Lumber or other material merchant renders continues with that house, years after they are paid in full.

If your Contractor built with proper material and good construction methods you will continue to receive Service from them; if cheap, shoddy material or good material improperly placed and slipshod methods are used you will not receive service but expense bills instead. Before you build consult us, we will gladly advise you the proper grade of material to use, in its proper place.

BLAME CARS FOR 8000 DEATHS
IN 1922

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Approximately 8,000 persons were killed in automobile accidents in 1922 in fourteen states where statistics on such fatalities are kept, or estimated by responsible organizations, according to figures gathered by the United Press.

While definite figures were not available from the remaining states, unofficial estimates described the fatalities as heavy, and indicated that the casualties strike a fairly even average, population considered. On the basis of the generally accepted estimate that 23 persons are injured for every one killed by automobiles, the number hurt in the United States in 1922 is estimated in six figures.

The "traffic evil" in the year just ended broke all former records with this startling casualty toll. Large population centers, where congestion adds to the menace of the reckless or drunken driver, led the list.

Fully 90 per cent of the accidents, traffic experts estimated, were of the "preventable" sort. Care and caution by someone could have averted them and saved the lives of the victims.

A dozen state legislatures, hundreds of state, county and city officials and criminal court judges are considering means to curb the menace, many of them prescribing jail and prison sentences as well as moral penalties for speeders and careless drivers.

Next to New York, the largest toll among the states was taken in Pennsylvania where 1100 were killed.

Illinois and California ranked third in the number of dead reported. In each, auto accidents took a toll of approximately 1,000 killed.

Fatalities in other states include: Oregon, 410; Wisconsin, 190; Nebraska, 108; Oklahoma, 234; Georgia, 118; Michigan, 403; Massachusetts, 522; Maryland, 223; Ohio, 800.

posits were $2,221,875.69."

Similar reports were made by E. L. Crawford, cashier of the California National bank; E. H. Richards, president of the American National bank, and E. B. Sprague, cashier of the Orange County Trust and Savings bank.

"Though this bank is primarily a commercial bank," Crawford said, "savings accounts here show a gain of 6.5 per cent last year. Commercial accounts have shown a higher percentage of gain."

Sprague emphasized the good sense of clients holding savings accounts in the Orange County Trust and Savings bank toward investments.

Depositors Make Investments
"Many of our depositors," he said, "are investing their savings in real estate mortgages and good bonds, both paying investments."

"I would issue one warning only to the savings depositor and would-be investor—beware of wildcat oil stocks and other sensational promotion schemes that have little foundation in investment virtues."

That Santa Ana holds a unique position in the banking world was the consensus of the bankers.

"Statements of the banks of Santa Ana and of Orange county have reflected the county's prosperity through the years and have been instrumental in advertising the constant, consistent growth of this territory," said J. H. Turner, assistant cashier of the First National bank.

"Slumps are unknown to Santa Ana banks," declared Cashier Crawford of the California National bank. "For two years or more this institution kept comparative statements month by month showing the steady gain in each department, an unbroken chain of prosperity."

ertheless, that hundreds of Santa Ana and Orange county residents are willing to invest their money in enterprises located in Los Angeles or elsewhere, but are loath to invest in the projects that seek establishment of factories in this city," said a member of the group of business men in the conference.

Keep Money Here

"It seems strange that the investors would rather take a chance on some concern organized and operating at a distance rather than to support an enterprise that would become a local asset."

It is expected that further plans for the organization of the city-wide industrial committee will be discussed at a meeting to be held at James's cafe, Tuesday.

In the meantime, investigations are to be made of the responsibility of those who are attempting creation of an organization to start the manufacture here of a staple article.

LEGION DISTRIBUTES FILM

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 18.—The American Legion will enter the motion picture distribution field in Louisville, January 21, when the first large film purchased by the Legion will be exhibited. The film is "The Man Without a Country," a patriotic drama, based on Dr. Edward Everett Hale's classic of that title. State and city officials, member of the legion national headquarters staff in Indianapolis and representatives of scores of religious, patriotic and civic societies will attend the premier. The picture will be exhibited under auspices of Louisville posts of the Legion for one week and will then be taken to a number of other cities in all parts of the country under Legion ownership and sponsorship.

FULLERTON LURES

built it, is well justified.

Roy E. Durbin is the proprietor of the new hostelry. He is the man who caused the Fullerton people to realize what a first-class hotel would mean to the community. He started the promotion work in May, 1921, and today holds a ten-year lease on the property.

Durbin is a hotel man of many years' experience gained in the leading hotels of Seattle. His debut in hotel circles in Southern California was made at Long Beach, where he conducted the Torrey Pines and the Central Apartments before launching the Fullerton hotel.

Has Corner Location

The California is located on the northwest corner of Spadra and Wilshire streets, occupying a plot of ground 150x230. The structure cost $210,000. M. Eugene Durfee was the architect and Frank K. Benchley, associate.

It is a striking three-story structure along Spanish lines. It is built in a "U" shape around a court, 62x100. This court has been laid out with flowers and lawn. Ten store rooms open on the court. The hotel contains 48 guest rooms; 16 two-room and 5 four-room apartments; 2 beautiful dining rooms, and 3 large sample rooms.

All Modern Conveniences

The lobby is 100x30 with the ladies' parlor on one end and the dining rooms on the other. A dual-control Otis elevator of latest type, and a steam heating plant, are features of convenience and comfort. The hotel was furnished by Barker Brothers of Los Angeles at a cost of more than $50,000 to Durbin, the lessee.

John McFadden and company represented Santa Ana, in the construction of the new California Hotel at Fullerton. The plumbing and painting contract of the big hotel job was handled by the local concern to the complete satisfaction of the Community Hotel company.

The dining rooms of The California will be under the personal direction of N. D. Constant, late manager of the Chicago Press club, where he made an enviable reputation as a caterer.

Chef H. F. Strombeck, late of the Los Angeles Athletic club and the Ambassador and who has served in many of the leading Eastern hotels, is in charge of the kitchens.

The opening banquet served to 203 guests introduced Messrs. Constant and Strombeck most favorably and reflected cuisine rarely to be found outside of metropolitan centers.

Stage Gala Opening

The opening banquet presented a gala scene, due to the many and varied favors and caps provided by Mine Host Durbin. Speeches were made by many of Fullerton's leading citizens. A short reception followed the banquet after which dancing was indulged in until the wee hours. Ira Gay's noted Los Angeles orchestra of seven pieces provided the music.

A large amount of flowers sent in by such organizations as the Fullerton Board of Trade, the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, as well as local business men, filled the lobby on the opening night.

First Guest Registers

George H. Scott, of Glendale, won the honor of being the first guest to register. He was followed by twenty other transient guests. The following Fullertonites are now quartered at The California as permanent guests: H. L. Wells and family; Miss Jessie A. ### OUR NEW HOME

Now Open to the Motoring Public

Double Space and Latest Equipment

—We invite you to inspect our new home, conceded to be one of the most modern garages in Southern California.

—Double our former floor space and additional equipment for handling work promptly and efficiently is now at your service.

—A pit large enough for workman to operate on ten machines at the same time has been provided and a crane makes it possible to move the cars quickly.

Perfect Lighting and Ventilation

—Lighting and ventilation have been given very careful attention, with the result that we have one of the best ventilated and lighted garages in the state. Six big skylights flood the workshop with light. Each is equipped with double ventilators.

—A floodlight system for illuminating the garage at night has been installed, in order that a night repair and storage service may be maintained.

All Day and Night Service

—We especially call your attention to our day and night storage and repair service, as well as our facilities for car washing and polishing.

—Our tow car is always ready for any emergency call, day and night.

Auto Accessories

—We carry in stock at all times a good selection of high grade auto accessories, gas, oils, greases, etc., at reasonable prices.

Converse Tires

—This is a new line we have just added. We consider Converse Tires the most durable made. They have an extra cord in every tire, making them doubly strong. Their appearance is another distinguishing feature, adding to the looks of your car.

Look Us Over

—We invite you to drive in and inspect our new home. It will be a pleasure for us to show you around to give you an idea what we have here when you need our service.

The Men Who Built This Splendid Building

—We wish to express our hearty appreciation to the firms and individuals who co-operated in making our new home one of the best built garage buildings in the Southland.

—From the designing of the building by W. W. Kays, who also furnished the glass and metal specialties, and the placing of the general building contract in the hands of O. V. Noble, all along through the various stages it has been a real pleasure to watch the progress.

—From day to day we had the opportunity to observe the high class work done by the subcontractors—S. M. Strong, who sprayed the interior with cold water paint; Owen Roofing Co., who put on a 5-year guaranteed roof; Geo. L. Cocking, plumbing; G. & G. Metal Shops, sheet metal work and special ventilating system; Charles Winter, painting; W. Wright, brick work; and Cope Electric Co.

—To each of you we extend our sincere thanks for your part in making this a building of which we are justly proud.

Important to Tax Payers and Others

At this time, we wish to advise, that we are now permanently located in Title & Abstract Bldg., 5th and Main streets, Suite No. 9, with an increased staff of Accountants, assuring our old as well as new Clients, desiring our professional services, of prompt attention and strict secrecy. We specialize in one of our departments, on Income tax matters. To new prospective clients, we desire to state, that this department is not a temporary or side issue with us, as we have been giving this part of our business special attention, subscribing to the Prentice-Hall Tax Service and other recognized authorities.

We call your attention to a recent ruling (Nov. 2nd, 1922) of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, as follows:

Every Taxpayer carrying on the business of Producing, Manufacturing, Purchasing or Selling of any commodities or merchandise, shall for the purpose of determining the amount of Income under the Revenue Act of 1921, keep such books of account, or record, including Inventory, as is necessary to establish the amount of Gross Income and deductions, credits and other information required by an Income Tax return.

The Taxpayer shall produce such books of account or record, for the inspection of Revenue Officers duly authorized by law to inspect the same at such time and in the manner provided by law.

To comply with above ruling, it is absolutely essential that all persons should keep such books or records of their business in entirety.

P. A. ACCOUNTING BUREAU

PLAN COUNTY'S ELECTRIC FUTURE

Orange county, one of the most prolific sources of income for the Southern California Edison company, will, according to George C. Ward, vice president of the corporation, have a prominent place in gigantic construction plans to extend over a period of ten years and to involve a total expenditure of $375,000,000.

Plans now being outlined by the company call for an outlay far in excess of the cost of the Panama canal, Ward said, and the huge project, when completed, will develop a million and a quarter horse power of electric energy. This will be distributed in Los Angeles, Kings, Kern, Tulare, Fresno, Ventura, Santa Barbara, San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange counties.

Enlarging Katella Plant. "In keeping with the first step of the great program," said Vice President Ward, "we are making extensive enlargements at our Katella plant, between Anaheim and Santa Ana, for the purpose of serving the important territory in Orange county. This county, thickly settled with prosperous and thriving cities, is one of the most important links in our great electrical chain.

"A million and a quarter horse power of electric energy for the Southwest will make it the world's most extensively electrified region.

Erecting Big Terminal. "The initial step, already taken by the company, centers about the erection of a new $2,000,000 terminal station to be known as the Laguna Bell sub-station. This station, contiguous to the big industrial development which has already taken place in the Vernon district and the territory lying east, will receive electric energy over a new main trunk line which is an extension of the Big Creek transmission lines, reaching 270 miles to the source of power in the High Sierras.

"The capacity of this station, which will be of the new outdoor type of construction, will be 160,000 horsepower. It is, in a sense, the giant hub from which a dozen great power arteries, including Katella, will carry the current to the principal centers of Southern California.

Plan New Trunk Line. "To connect the new terminal, located near Bell Station, with the sources of power of the Edison system, a new trunk line, thirty miles in length, is to be built north from the terminal site to the foothills back of Pasadena, and thence to a switching station near Eagle Rock, where the line will connect to the Big Creek main trunk line." Commenting upon the rapid and substantial growth of Santa Ana and other Orange county cities, Manager W. L. Deimling of the local Edison offices, said that the Santa Ana district alone is handling a connected load of 40,000 horse power, and the company is preparing to add another 5000 horse power. Santa Ana city has 3000 horse power capacity. In 1909 Santa Ana was supplied by two 50-kilowatt transformers, handling a total of about 134 horse power.

NEW MARKET TO BE OPENED FEBRUARY 1

Erection of stalls and equipment is progressing at the new Sam Hill market, southwest corner of Bush and Fifth streets, with indications that the market will be ready for business operation on the scheduled date, February 1.

Hill today expressed the belief that the new market would be the same instantaneous success that others that he has opened in the city have been. He pointed to the parking conditions in that vicinity as favorable to merchandizing on the corner.

He declared that parking accommodations were not monopolized and that persons desiring to trade at the market would find it possible to drive to the place and find an automobile parking stall close to the corner—"something," he declares, "that is next to impossible in the congested business district of the city."

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? This reason is plain—the article did not fulfil the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfils almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcels Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Adv.

NEW SECRETARY FOR HUNTINGTON CHAMBER

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 18.—Frank Swartz was elected secretary to succeed M. A. McCreery, resigned, by the directors of the chamber of commerce here this week. Mr. Swartz was elected for one year.

Plans for the 1923 program were outlined but no definite action has as yet been taken by the directors.

SUBDIVIDER TO OPEN ANOTHER BIG TRACT

With only ten lots left in his Edgewood Park subdivision, at the corner of Edgewood Road and Santiago streets, A. B. Rouselle today announced that he had purchased two acres of the P. H. Norton tract on the west and taken an option on the remaining two and a half acres.

The Norton property is south of Edgewood road and west of Valencia street. As indicating the increase in values since Rouselle opened his tract, he recited that he paid Norton $2000 an acre more than he paid for his original subdivision tract.

Rouselle predicted that subdivision activities in the immediate neighborhood would result in rapid advancement as a residential section of the northeast part of the city. He said that a petition is now in circulation for paving East Santa Clara avenue east from Bush street to a point east of Santiago street and that paving of Santiago street from Santa Clara to Wedgewood street will be included in the paving program.

The subdivider announced that work had been virtually completed in the installing of sewer, water and gas lines and that oiling and grading of streets would begin next week. B. R. Ford has the contract for this work.

F. P. Mason, who came here a few weeks ago from St. Louis and bought three lots in the tract, has begun the erection of a residence on one of the lots and will build on the others. He has bought a fourth lot, upon which he will also build, according to Rouselle.

S. A. WINS PRAISE OF IDAHO ARCHITECT

Santa Ana wins by all tests. H. Newton Thornton, architect, once of Idaho, now of Santa Ana, said he did not come here until he had viewed all opportunities offered in Southern California.

"After driving 1500 miles in one week from snowbound Idaho to the perpetual June of Southern California," he said, "I camped in Los Angeles and gathered much Chamber of Commerce literature and other information regarding surrounding cities.

"I chose Santa Ana because evidently it is gathering impetus in a building program that will go far into the millions. "I came here because there seemed no evidence of cut-throat competition, because the building program seemed to be planned upon an equitable, profitable and substantial foundation. My experience has taught me that these factors are insurance of steady prosperity."

Thornton has opened offices in the Hill building. He has been staying at St. Ann's Inn, and has expressed his appreciation of the city's hospitality to G. A. Schweiger, manager of the Inn.

Thornton said he was connected with the expenditure of approximately $3,000,000 in Idaho, specializing in school and hospital buildings.

He said he was closing his business in Idaho, his last job being a $500,000 project at Idaho Falls.

LAND OFFICE MOVE ASKED BY APRIL 1

Notified by the First National bank that he probably would have to move his real estate office at 104 West Fourth street, April 1, to permit erection of the proposed new six-story bank building on the southwest corner of Fourth and Main streets, C. M. McCain today had taken a lease on the store room at 601 North Main street, to which location he will move his office on February 1.

The room, part of the building owned by J. S. Trew and Harry Smith, is 30x50 feet. McCain is effecting alterations to make two store rooms at the rear facing on Sixth street, leaving him an office room 30x50.

He is fitting an up-to-the-minute office. He declared that when completed it would be one of the finest in the city.

Salesmen operating out of the office are L. A. McCain, H. D. Connel and Charles Cochran.

LEGION ELECTS WOMAN. COTTER, Ark., Jan. 18.—The Levy-Denton Post No. 108 of the American Legion here elected Miss W. Temple, formerly a marine during the war, as adjutant. She has the distinction of being perhaps the only woman adjutant of a post comprising men in the American Legion. The post has started a membership drive to end at noon, January 15. The losers will furnish an evening's entertainment.

Dr. Carolyn Dryer, 956-W, successor to Dr. Magill.

IT'S ONE OF "DIXON'S DURABLE DWELLINGS"

Two blocks west of Broadway at 521 W. 19th, in new Strong tract where lot values run up to $2500 and restrictions call for house to cost $4,000 or more. Six inch concrete paving, paid for. Four other fine homes under way and practically all lots sold to prospective builders—in past 100 days.

Lot 52x156 with 5 big walnut and other trees. Soil is rich garden loam. Lawn seeded. Grammar school two blocks away. House is SOLIDLY, SOUNDLY CONSTRUCTED from cement foundation to shingle roof. Is 28x48 or 1344 sq. ft. Living and dining room, 16x28, three bed-rooms, 12x12 each, roomy clothes and linen closets, sanistone bath, large kitchen and breakfast nook, gas fireplace, gas outlets in each room, heavy oak floors throughout, cemented cellar 12x12, double garage 18x20, solid drive, (just $493.60 worth of cement work on property.)

Beautifully and harmoniously furnished by Ira Chandler & Son, whose experts were given carte blanche to carry out their own ideas of what the situation demanded; a piano and Cheney phonograph supplied by Orange County Piano Co.; an artistic display of fine chinaware in the lovely buffet made by Nickey Hdw. Co.

SELLING THIS HOUSE is not the primary purpose of this demonstration; so far my houses have sold UNFURNISHED as fast as completed, or before completion, and I have no doubt that this one would also.

This is more in the nature of combined or co-operative effort of the interests involved to show what, in our judgment, a really complete 6-room home should look like.

VISITORS THEREFORE WELCOME, whether they come to buy or just to "look around." Price of house alone $7,500, or complete as it stands $9,200. About 40 per cent cash required. If you want to buy a home BRING YOUR TRUNKS AND CHECK BOOK—if you don't want to buy a home—COME ANYWAY. If you have no way to come I'll send a car for you.

EVENING SALUTATION

The first duty of every man in the world is that of subduing fear; he must get rid of fear; he cannot act at all until then; his acts are slavish; not true.

—Thomas Carlyle.

SEE HARBOR AS NECESSITY

That numbers of Los Angeles men who keep in close touch with commercial affairs of Southern California are looking to Newport harbor as the scene of harbor expansion for Southern California, has been indicated frequently during the past three months. The most recent evidence came in an address at Ontario this week by Julius Schneider, industrial secretary for the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. Schneider said that Los Angeles harbor is already crowded, and he sees the development of Newport harbor as inevitable. Further, he declared that the harbor will logically become the port of greatest usefulness to the citrus industry of Southern California.

The attitude of the Los Angeles interests is becoming more friendly to the Orange county harbor project. What is said concerning the fact that Los Angeles harbor either is now or soon will reach its capacity is undoubtedly true, and that fact alone means a good deal. It means that Southern California eventually will be as much interested in Newport as we of Orange county are.

The situation is growing more encouraging month by month. We have had the support of Riverside and San Bernardino counties in the long fight that has been made for the initial development of the harbor. Just as soon as a favorable report from the federal engineers is received—and there is every reason to believe that the forthcoming report will be favorable—we can count on those counties standing with ours in a fight for federal support. Apparently there is no reason why we cannot have substantial and very valuable support from Los Angeles county also.

WHAT'S TO BE DONE NEXT?

Newspapermen and others up and down the state are still waiting for H. M. Toy, chairman of the newly appointed State Highway commission, to say a few words in reply to N. D. Darlington, who was chairman of the board that went out of existence with the in-going of the Richardson administration. Toy's first official act was to announce that the commission has no funds. Darlington forthwith stated that there is $28,000,000 available for highway construction, of which $15,000,000 will be needed to meet contracts that are let, leaving $12,000,000 which is quite a bit of money.

The highway commission was one of the sectors attacked by Richardson and his allies during the last campaign. The voters of the state evidently were convinced that they wanted a change. They got it. Profuse accusations served their purpose during the campaign. The time for making further accusations, it seems to us, has gone by. The people now are not so much interested in what the old commission did as they are in what the new commission is going to do, and they are within their rights if they keep on the heels of the new commission until it announces a definite program, until it tells what policies it will substitute for policies that were followed by the old commission.

Everybody is familiar with the history of highway construction in this state. State and county and municipal pavements were put down with the expectation that they would serve the kind of traffic then in existence. A heavy trucking traffic came into existence, and highways everywhere were pounded to pieces. The experience of the state was no different from the experience of Orange county, in that regard.

The first thing that the new commission can do is to demand legislation for the regulation of heavy traffic. A statewide law cutting load limits and making them uniform is a vital need. Regulation or elimination of hard tires should be considered. How is the new commission standing on those vital questions?

In replacing old pavement, what kind of pavement is to be used?

The public is rather an impatient body. It may be perfectly willing to hear Mr. Toy express his oft-repeated opinion concerning the old commission, but it won't be satisfied with that opinion and that alone. The public wants to know what is to be done next.

There will soon be enough blocs in Washington to build a political platform.

A COMMUNITY TRIUMPH

The Orange County Choral union, with "The Bohemian Girl," has scored another community triumph, as well as an artistic success. Growing weeks of effort, the presentation of the grand opera at the high school auditorium Monday and Tuesday evenings of this week was an achievement in which everybody from Director Ellis Rhodes down to the least of those who had a part may well take pride.

As The Register has often said, and doubtless will say many times hereafter, things of this sort are eminently worthwhile. Through the work of the choral union numerous singers have an opportunity to develop their art and at the same time give to the county a great deal of profitable enjoyment.

Only those who are in close touch with the singers have any idea of the tremendous amount of hard work that is necessary in order to put on an opera like "The Bohemian Girl" in the way that it was put on in Santa Ana. Weeks and weeks of study and drill and rehearsals are required, and many of those who take parts in the production do so at sacrifice of other of their activities.

And yet they find it very much worth while—worth while for what they get out of it individually and as an organization and worth while because they are contributing something very decidedly worth while to the life of their community.

THE TEAROOM INDUSTRY

Prohibition, which drove the saloon out of business, established woman in one of her biggest business fields—the tearoom enterprise. This is on the authority of Miss Helen Woods, who has established the first school solely devoted to teaching tearoom management.

Before prohibition, according to Miss Woods, no woman could hope to compete with hotels and roadhouses where drinks were served. Today there is ample patronage for the myriad establishments which deal in nicely cooked home foods and palatable beverages devoid of alcohol. As she expresses it, "Women are capitalizing their sex's generations of training in home-making."

The change is not all to the advantage of the woman who runs the successful little wayside tea house, now seen everywhere in the East. Such establishments, aside from the excellent viands which they provide, are uniformly more artistic and tasteful in setting and appearance than the roadhouses of an earlier day, as well as more decent.

If America owed no other debt to prohibition, she still would have cause for thankfulness that these attractive spots, of wholesome influence, so generally replace the resorts of pre-prohibition times.

It is said that the warship of the future will be a "contest of wits." Not half so much as finding ways to do without warships in the future.

Picking On a Real Job

San Bernardino Telegram.

Senator Capper's name will be written into the history of his country as one of the most useful of the Americans who have placed their names on its pages if he succeeds in his effort to work out "a permanent solution of the farmers' ills." An economic system that allots to the producer only about 34 cents of the dollar the consumer spends for produce is as dangerous as it is unjust. The crash is inevitable, its only uncertain feature being the date of it, unless a remedy is found.

In some nations, Senator Capper's investigation discloses, the producer gets "as high as 75 cents out of the consumer's dollar." The United States may never be able to attain that elimination of waste but it is at least certain it must make the effort. Agriculture, the production of food stuffs, is the basic industry that must support all others and that must determine the degree of national prosperity, for no structure can be more stable than its foundation. No industry can maintain a parasitical growth to the degree that agriculture is seeking to do without ultimate destruction.

Senator Capper announces his purpose to discover what becomes of the 66 cents of the consumer's dollar that the producer fails to get. Some of it, too much, inevitably goes to transportation, but more goes to the middleman who neither toils nor spins but collects his winnings garbed in raiment that outshines Solomon in all his glory. The Kansas senator will have little trouble learning the destination of the 66 cents. His real trouble will begin when he attempts to change that destination.

Fashion Borrows Gypsy Custom

San Francisco Chronicle.

Dainty Parisiennes, adopting a custom hitherto peculiar to their gypsy sisters, are using varicolored, silken handkerchiefs as articles of personal adornment. The fad started in Deauville last August and literally has taken the French capital by storm. English and American women, passing through Paris en route to the Riviera, likewise have been captivated by the charming effect brought about through utilization of the flaring mouchoirs and are quickly taking up the fad.

The handkerchiefs are used in various ways. They are knotted loosely around the wrist as bracelets, looped around the throat, twisted around the coiffures like turbans and placed across the forehead like Grecian bandeaus. The most recent innovation is a scarlet, silken handkerchief around the left ankle.

Gypsy maidens long ago recognized the charm of the silken handkerchief. Adroit use of these filmy bits of varicolored silk has done much to add to the attractiveness of the gypsy costume. The latest extreme innovation, being nothing more or less than a fad, doubtless will go the way of all fads, but there is an innate charm about a dainty handkerchief that may well justify modern femininity in utilizing it, even as the wandering gypsies have used it, to enhance their attractiveness.

University Division

Stockton Record.

The Los Angeles plan to divide the state university promises to be as unpopular among educators as the state division plan always is to the people of what the Sacramento Bee calls Superior California. Dr. Barrows speaks of division as a thing that would be "disastrous." Granting the need of having branches, departments and separate colleges disposed at different convenient locations within the state, the president adds:

"The quite natural popular demand that college education be brought to the threshold of every home is an impractical proposition. Knowledge is one of those great acquisitions which, to be gained, must be sought. It may require separation from home, the expense of travel and corresponding sacrifices. It is not obtainable on other terms. To attempt to create in this state two universities means that both would be condemned to mediocrity. It is possible to have two universities, but at the sacrifice of having any that is truly great."

Boy Scout Anniversary

San Bernardino Sun.

In February the Boy Scout movement will celebrate its thirteenth anniversary. At present the organization numbers about 400,000 boys, with some 125,000 men actively interested in Scouting. It is hoped to raise the membership to 500,000 by the anniversary celebration.

If there are any potential Boy Scouts in the neighborhood, in need of the fun and companionship and activity of the Scout program, now is the time to trot them forward and get them into a local troop. And if there are any men with some spare time on hand, with a keen interest in boys and a real ability to enter into their problems and act as friend and leader, now is not at all a bad time for them to offer their services to the Boy Scout movement.

A judge of long experience in Chicago juvenile courts said recently that a remarkably small proportion of the thousands of boys who had been brought before him were Scouts. Other public officials, social workers, parents and teachers could offer similar testimony.

A Boy Scout troop is a "gang" of the right sort. Its place in the community is important.

Will Make the Dog Mad--Maybe

Little Leaks in Law-Abiding

Riverside Press

Somebody asked Attorney General Daugherty to suggest a New Year's resolution for the American people, and this was what he said:

I am impressed with the thought that no nobler resolution may be taken by any inhabitant of this republic than that he will live the life of a 100 per cent American; That he will dedicate himself to strict observance of the laws of his country.

That he will obey them in letter and spirit, all of them, even though there be some that, in his individual opinion, hurt. The first requirement is rather vague. Who knows what "100 per cent American" really means? But the rest is definite and practical.

What a difference it would make in all our national life if every citizen took for his mark obedience to law and lived up to it! It is true that the big, spectacular crimes and outrages against the law are confined to a very small percentage of the population, but there are little leaks in law-abiding all along the line.

What if Americans agreed individually and collectively to stop these leaks as well as the bigger violations? What if they worked actively to support and enforce the laws which publicly they agree are framed for the common good and which privately they are prone to evade if they see a little personal advantage? National laws, state laws, local ordinances kept in the spirit and the letter even when they hurt—it is a fine suggestion. Where is the community to step forward and put it through on a 100 per cent basis?

Worth While Verse

KEEP MARCHING ON.

What through the storm-clouds oft may rise

Keep marching on, before thine eyes

The skies, so gray.

Will brighten soon to rainbow hues

And thou shalt see

Through rifted clouds, love's wider views,

And vistas free.

Art worn with burdens hard to bear,

Hope's light grown dim?

Keep marching on, God knows thy care,

Share it with Him;

Eyes forward move, though hard and slow

The march may be,

Thou'rt not alone, for He will go

Each step with thee.

Keep marching on through cloud and sun,

Each day will bring

Some hard task to its close, well done,

And hope will spring

With each care vanquished, stronger, aye,

Till all are gone.

Lost in the light of perfect day—

Keep marching on.

France Makes a Mistake

Riverside Press

When Alsace and Lorraine were added to Germany in 1871, the seed was sown for another war between France and Germany. And when the blue clad troops of France moved into the Ruhr valley this week, they were scattering seed that will in all probability be harvested in another war.

What Europe needs today is peace, forbearance, mutual consideration and co-operation. The latest move of France is inspired by fear and hatred, is enforced by stern military measures and is destructive to any permanent basis of peace.

Perhaps Germany is not so nearly broke as her representatives claim; perhaps she could pay a larger sum in reparations than she says she can meet; and perhaps she ought to pay faster than she is. These questions, however, should be settled by a fair tribunal and not decided by one power alone, according to its own views of what is just.

France has been advised against its present course by its two powerful allies—Great Britain and the United States—and should have heeded the friendly advice of those two friends. Germany should pay for the ravages wrought in France during the unprovoked and wicked World War; but in the long run, it will be best for all concerned if she is forced to pay only a sum that is economically possible for her to pay on terms that can be met. The British and American experts who have studied the situation agree that the present program of reparations is impossible. France, therefore, may find that from the standpoint of dollars and cents, she would be better off to make concessions and adopt a policy of conciliation.

There is sympathy for France in the present crisis among the people of the United States who know what she has suffered and who realize the threat of future German aggression under which she lives. But what she is doing now will increase the peril of future attacks and retaliations and put in hazard the peace of Europe and the world.

America gave a sigh of relief when our soldiers at Colmar were ordered home. The valley of the Rhine is no place for American doughboys in this crisis. It is hard to tell what complications will arise and what conflagration of war be lighted. America is not a party to the controversies between France and Germany; and now that no attention has been paid to our friendly advice, it is a good time to "Git for Home, Bruno."

Spend for clothes and spend for food,

Spend for books and education;

Spend to keep your strength renewed,

Spend for healthy recreation;

But the rest—put it away,

Save it, keep it, bank it, hold it!

Things are going well for you?

Times are daily getting better?

Fine! but keep this thought in view—

Salt away a little sum,

Keep it, hold it, bank it, save it!

More than a billion cocoanuts grown under the American flag are among the 1922 contributions of our tropical islands to the comfort and convenience of the people of continental United States. Adventures of the Twins

Weather Man's Letter

By Olive Roberts Barton

You never saw anything like Mr. Stamps' post office in your life! Mr. Stamps was the fairy postmaster and the post office was in a hickory tree and it was chuck full of letters.

Nancy and Nick, with the magical glasses that the Green Wizard had given them, were trying to sort them out.

"Here's one for Mr. Sprinkle-Blow," said Nancy, picking up a letter and turning it upside down and downside up and almost turning it inside out. "I'm going to take it to him in Bluster Goo Land in the sky right away."

Mr. Stamps thought it a good idea because, as he said, he wanted to get "the place cleared out before Valentine Day."

So off Nancy started in her magic Green Shoes, through the sky to Bluster Goo Land where Mr. Sprinkle-Blow, the fairy weather man, lived. It was snowing, but she didn't mind a bit. "Tap, tap, tap," she went on that person's door with the big knocker.

Mr. Sprinkle-Blow was taking a nap, but he came down at once. "Oh, ho! so it's you," said the kind fairy joyfully when he saw his visitor. "Come right in. I'm not busy now. I'm leaving the weather to the Nuisance Fairies for awhile, particularly to Jack Frost. What's that? A letter! I don't usually get many after Christmas."

Mr. Sprinkle-Blow tore it open and then he laughed and laughed. "What do you think?" he chuckled. "It's from Mrs. Guinea Pig. You may read it."

So Nancy took the letter and read:

"Dear Mr. Sprinkle-Blow: I herd sunwun say that I wood not grow a tale until the sno turned pink. Will you please make it sno pink at wunce. Yours, Mrs. G. Pig."

"I'm afraid I can't do that!" said Mr. Sprinkle-Blow, "but I'll write her a letter and tell her that the only place guinea-pigs grow tails is in Dreamland. Mr. Dusty-Coat Sandman had better take her there."
